...from mines hundreds of miles distant.

"The cotton factories are supplied with raw material from the great Laguna district, which produces nine-tenths of all the cotton raised in Mexico. The size of the crop depends largely each year on the amount of rainfall during the wet season, which begins in June and continues until October. During the fall months, following the rains, the streams of the Laguna district overflow their banks, covering the valleys with water to a depth of several feet. After this has soaked into the land the farmers plow the dried crust of soil and leave it until February or March, when the cotton is planted.

"The less progressive natives, who are content with a smaller yield, do not find it necessary to plant their crops oftener than every eight or ten years, for cotton is perennial in this region. The plant was found in Mexico by the Spaniards, Columbus recognizing it off the mainland of Yucatan in 1502. The Aztecs and Toltecs knew its uses and not only did they weave beautiful garments of it, but they used it in quilted form to make breast plates, which were proof against arrows.

"Torreon has quite an extensive trade with the outside world, importing electrical, mining and agricultural machinery and exporting gold, silver, lead and the rubber manufactured from Guayule shrub, which grows in this region.

"It is a ride of twenty-five minutes on the electric cars to the pretty suburban town of Lerdo, just across the border of Coahuila, in Durango. Here the rents are much cheaper than in the larger city."

The Lincoln Memorial.

[Philadelphia Public Ledger] "The Lincoln Memorial, when completed, will be the most costly memorial ever erected. It is being built of the largest blocks of marble ever quarried. One stone now weighs twenty-two and one-half tons. The marble is from Colorado.

"After the thirteen original blocks the stones representing the states will be arranged in the order of their admission to the Union."

OVERWHELMING VOTE TO PARALYZE NATION.

Ninety-seven Per Cent. of the Unionized Railroaders Would Go the Limit.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Aug. 7.—Announcement of the exact vote of the 400,000 railroad employees to threaten a nation-wide strike if their demands for an eight-hour day are not granted will be made tomorrow. If there is to be a strike it will not be called for some days.

The union officials and the railroad representatives will meet at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Engineering Society, No. 29 West Thirty-ninth street, when the vote will be officially announced. It was said today at the Broadway Central Hotel, where the counting has been finished, that 97 per cent. of the engineers, firemen, conductors and trainmen had voted to strike.

TO ASK A DELAY.

When this is made known officially to the National Conference Committee on Railroads tomorrow it is the intention to ask Elisha Lee, chairman of the committee, ask that a delay of several days be granted for the roads to think things over. This will be granted, it was said by union leaders. At another meeting probably late this week the railroads are expected to make their answer. This is likely to be a proposal to have the difficulties settled under the Newlands Act, by the appointment of a mediation commission. The four brotherhoods are not absolutely opposed to arbitration but are opposed to the proposition of a Federal inquiry into railroad wages. The men want arbitration "but without any strings to it," as a leader expressed it.

AT THE MEETING.

At the meeting tomorrow will be the eighteen members of

COMMENT ON THE SITUATION.

Constantinople reports a series of gains for the Turks fighting against the Russians, and Petrograd admits at least one of the claims—that the Russians have been forced to retire under pressure to the region east of Kermanshah, Persia. An attack by the Russians north of Bukan, on the Persian front, was put down with heavy losses to the Russians, according to Constantinople, and in Turkish Armenia near Bitlis and Mush the Russians have been put to flight and the Turks have taken from them positions the Russians had previously occupied. The latest reports concerning the attack of the Turks against the British forces with the Suez Canal their objective indicated that the Ottoman forces met with a reverse even more serious than was first chronicled. Driven back eighteen miles into the desert, fighting rear-guard actions, they suffered heavy casualties and of their total force of 14,000, lost forty-five officers and 2000 men made prisoners. They now have been entirely cleared from the Katia-Umaishi basin.

The hunt for Villa is said to be still in progress. Reports on the subject, however, are quite meager. The punitive expedition is still in Mexico while negotiations between Wilson and Carranza are in progress.

It is a mistake to jump at the wrong conclusion that all, or most of the more important news is to be found on the first page. Consult the Index and the Summary, then read the entire issue and thus get all the news of the day.

COTTON STALKS MAKE PAPER.

A Tip to the Editors Who are in Daily Fear of Bankruptcy.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

BERLIN, July 20. — The royal testing material station at Gross-Lichterfelde, a suburb of Berlin, announces the interesting discovery that paper can be manufactured from cotton stalks.

The discovery is not considered of much importance for Germany, which produces no cotton, but is pointed to as of vast importance to the United States, the greatest producer of cotton in the world, because of the shortage of paper reported in that country.

The cotton stalks used in the experiment came from Egypt before the war began. The cotton stalks were ground up fine, after having been dried, and of the material the paper was made in the usual way.

GERMAN ORDER QUOTED IN PARIS.

IMPORTANCE OF A HILL AS VIEWED BY BUELOW.

Great Praise for the Australian Troops is Found in a Dispatch to "La Liberte"—The Colonials Held Their Own in Spite of a Terrific Fire.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, Aug. 7, 4:45 p.m.—A dispatch to La Liberte, dated North of France, says:

"The Germans yesterday furiously attacked positions taken the day before by the British north of Pozieres. An order had been given to the units at Pozieres sector to retake from the British, at whatever cost, Hill 160, shown by the order of the day issued by Gen. Von Buelow, and read to the troops yesterday. The order said:

"'We must at whatever price regain possession of the Pozieres plateau, which, if it remains in the hands of the English, would give them a precious advantage. Attacks will be led by successive waves, separated by a distance of eighty meters. Troops which first gain footing on the plateau must remain there and wait necessary reinforcements at whatever loss there may be. An officer or man who fails to resist, even unto death, on the conquered ground will be summoned immediately before a court-martial.'

"A number of copies of this document were taken from prisoners. Two divisions participated in the heavy attack.

"The Australians again covered themselves with glory. One regiment which occupied advanced trenches to the left of the Bapaume road, on the edge of the plateau, gave proof of magnificent heroism in resisting the assaults there of Bavarian and Saxon regiments, holding out stoically under a deluge of shot and shell and yielding not an inch of ground. The regiment sustained appreciable losses, but its courageous resistance enabled the English commander to make the necessary dispositions to check the German counter-offensive.

"All enemy attacks against Hill 160 and the Pozieres mill were repulsed, the enemy sustaining serious losses. The Germans sent forward three strong columns of one battalion each. The British artillery immediately began a barricading fire of remarkable precision, which cut down the assailants' ranks, forcing them to a precipitate retreat. Profiting by the confusion of their adversaries, the English, with much presence of mind, vigorously attacked the Germans northwest of Pozieres. Australians and troops from County Kent charged, and at the point of the bayonet captured two lines of trenches. In all they made progress about 200 meters in the direction of Martinpuich."

THE GREAT SPLIT OF THE SOCIALISTS.

PARIS, Aug. 7, 3:55 p.m.—The National Council of French Socialists which is holding its quarterly session here, adopted today by a vote of 1824 to 1075, a motion providing for the severance of international relations with the German Socialists.

Some considerable sentiment favoring a resumption of international Socialist relations has developed recently, the minority holding that events had occurred during the past few months making a renewal of these relations advisable, and the calling of a congress, embracing the delegates of allied nations had been urged "with a view to preparing for the resumption of international relations."

Today's session of the council was attended by the Socialist Ministers, Marcel Sembat and Jolen Guesde and by Albert Thomas, Undersecretary of State for War and Munitions. The vote on the motion was taken after an address by M. Sembat against the resumption of relations.

Submarine.

SIGHT TWO U-BOATS OFF COAST OF MAINE.

One is Said to be the Bremen and the Companion Craft the Amerika.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Me.) Aug. 7.—Every point along the Maine coast watched sharply today and tonight for two submarines believed to be foreign vessels and possibly the long expected German merchantman Bremen and a consort. The strange vessels were reported four miles off Cross Island, near Machias, and close to Canadian waters today by a coast guard lookout, but no word had reached here tonight to bear out the emphatic declaration from that station that they were undersea craft and were proceeding at top speed toward the west. The vigil along the coast extended as far east as Halifax, N. S., and St. John, N. B., both of which ports reported that British naval auxiliaries had no information regarding the presence of the submarines in these waters. During the afternoon a thick fog moved in from the sea and made extended observations impossible.

The Navy Department announced that no American submersibles were off the Maine coast.

Information from reliable sources that no British submarines were cruising in these waters seems to create the impression in the minds of many marine observers that the Bremen was dodging about close to the three-mile limit, preparing to slip into Boston.

Another possibility considered was that the coast guard crew might have seen the Deutschland, driven out of her course, or else sticking closely to shore. Captains of incoming craft reported that they had not seen any submarine.

ANOTHER VERSION.

BOSTON, Aug. 7.—What is supposed to have been the German submarine Bremen and another companion U-boat (said to be the Amerika) was sighted this morning off the extreme northern coast of Maine. The two submarines were headed westward.

The first vessel was sighted by Capt. Small of the Cross Island coast guard station. This craft is supposed to be the Bremen. Soon afterwards a second and smaller submarine was reported by Lowell W. Dunn, the lookout on Cross Island.

As the first vessel came to the surface five miles to the southeast in clear weather the lookout declared that he heard several blasts from the signal horn on the Seal Island lighthouse. He believes that the keeper of the lighthouse was signaling to the keeper of the Grand Manan lighthouse that a submarine had been sighted. Both islands are British possessions.

LOST IN A HAZE.

The nationality of the two submarines could not be determined. The large one first observed submerged after running awash for fifteen minutes, just after the signal blasts from the lighthouse. A haze set in soon afterward and it was impossible to see for more than four miles off Cross Island.

A canvass of naval stations and builders appeared to establish that no American submarines were off this coast and men who are close to naval affairs expressed the conviction that no allied submarine was off the New England coast or in Canadian waters.

DUNN'S STATEMENT.

"I was standing on the hill looking out to sea through my glass," said Dunn, "and it was perfectly clear at the time while the water was smooth. The first of the two submarines appeared from beneath the surface at about 8:25 o'clock and I should judge that her hull was ten or twelve feet out of water. Although she was at a distance of more than five miles off shore, I could plainly make out what seemed to be a small tower in the middle of the vessel.

"I watched her for a few minutes and then shifting my glasses I saw another smaller submarine a mile ahead of her. Both were bound to the westward. The vessel in the lead soon submerged and three or four minutes after I turned to take another look at the big one she, too, went below the surface.

"The submarines were traveling at the rate of ten or twelve miles an hour. I am positive the vessels were submarines, for the towers were plainly visible."

According to reports received here from Baltimore, Henry H. Hilken, senior member of the Eastern Forwarding Company, American agents of the German merchant submarines, was told of the report of the sighting of a submarine off the Maine coast, but refused to comment on the possibility of the craft being the Bremen or any other German under-water boat. Officers of the company have said heretofore that the Bremen was coming to Baltimore or some other convenient American port on the Atlantic seaboard, and, while it has been denied that her destination was Boston, it might be found expedient for her to put into that port.

OFF HER COURSE?

Cross Island lies close to the Maine coast. If the vessel was the Bremen she was either off her course, or, for reasons best known to the master of the merchantman, had come in close to the enemy's country in order to arrive sooner within the three-mile limit.

To be off Cross Island the submarine must have skirted the coast of Nova Scotia and rounded Sable Island, thence heading north along the edge of the Bay of Fundy, instead of taking the more direct route across the Gulf of Maine to Bar Harbor or Portland.

The indicated course would bring her within the three-mile limit soon after she was sighted, and from then on she would have plenty of water to permit her to keep within the neutral zone.

Another submarine was reported today as having been seen early this morning off Boston light. Chief Officer Peterson of the steamer Gulfaxe, in today from Frontera, Mex., is authority for the report. According to Peterson's story, he and his pilot sighted a submarine, low in the water, at 3 o'clock this morning off Boston light.

"It was some sort of a craft anyway, and we thought surely it was the Bremen," he said.

"We watched it for a time through our night glasses. There were no lights. It seemed to be cruising in a circle and finally it vanished, whether by submerging or not I cannot say. We saw no war craft anywhere off the harbor."

THE WASHINGTON VIEW.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Navy officers said today no American submarines were known to be anywhere in the vicinity of Cross Island. They thought the boat sighted there might be the German merchant submersible Deutschland on her homeward voyage or her sister ship, the Bremen, bound in for the United States.

HALIFAX STATEMENT.

HALIFAX (N. S.) Aug. 7.—The naval authorities at this port, who are in touch with the operations of all British vessels on this side of the Atlantic, were without information tonight of the submarines reported as having been sighted off Machias port, Maine, today. It was said authoritatively that there have been no British submarines in these waters recently.

Admiralty representatives listened with interest to the report of the submarines' presence, with its suggestion of German daring in approaching so closely to an enemy coast.

BRITISH MUST WAIT FOR SHIP APPAM.

NORFOLK (Va.) Aug. 7.—Judge Waddill today refused the petition of the British libellant in the Appam case, asking that the vessel be delivered to them by a prize court order, pending the result of an appeal to the Supreme Court. The decision, however, was conditional upon the respondents giving a proper supersedeas bond.

Puzzle.

TUG TIMMINS IS GONE; DESTINATION A MYSTERY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BALTIMORE (Md.) Aug. 7.—Henry G. Hilken of A. Schumacher & Co. and the Eastern Forwarding Company, to whom the submarine Deutschland was consigned, was much interested in the dispatch that two submarines had been sighted off the coast of Maine, but refused to make any comment.

Many Baltimoreans believe the big submarine to be the Bremen and the smaller vessel an armed U boat, which is acting as escort.

While it has been denied that the Bremen would dock at Boston, it is admitted that the submarine commander would make that port if he considered it inexpedient to try to run the gauntlet of enemy warships off the Chesapeake capes.

The tug Thomas F. Timmins left her moorings at the Andre-street pier of the Eastern Forwarding Company this morning. Inquiries at the pier and at Hansa Haus failed to elicit information of the boat's whereabouts. Questioned as to what had become of the tug, officers of the concern said the boat was "probably seeking a tow."

Capt. Hinsch of the Neckar has not been about that steamer for three days. Neither has he been seen at the Hansa Haus recently. Stevedores are still busy at the Andre-street pier shifting about small boxes of nickel and rubber, of which there are hundreds strewn about the enclosure at the wharf.

OLIVE MEN INCORPORATE.

Move to Promote a Growing and Important California Industry.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7.—The California Olive Association filed articles of incorporation with the County Clerk here today, announcing as its objects promotion of the olive industry of the State and the packing and shipping of the product to the eastern market. The organization will be capitalized at $300,000, and the incorporators were prominent men in the olive industry from San Francisco, Carpinteria, Oakland, Los Angeles, Madera and Corning.

Millions Involved.

INDIAN-LAND SUITS WILL BE SETTLED.

END OF LENGTHY MINNESOTA LITIGATION IN SIGHT.

Basis of Settlement of More than Thousand Cases, Rising from Act Allowing Mixed Bloods to Dispose of Holdings, is Given Approval of Attorney-General.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 7.—A basis of settlement of more than 1000 suits involving titles to land worth millions of dollars on the White Earth Indian reservation in Minnesota has been agreed upon between R. J. Powell, representing practically all the defendants, and Francis J. Kearfut, special Attorney-General assigned to carry on the Indian prosecutions, according to an announcement by the attorneys today. The methods involved in the agreement received the indorsement of the Attorney-General and the Secretary of the Interior at a recent conference in Washington.

The history of the cases involved begins with the allotment of the land among the Indians in 1905. The following year the Clapp Act was passed, which stated that adult mixed bloods could sell their lands, and the Indians began to dispose of their holdings, often for small sums. On being informed later that fullbloods could not alienate their lands, the Indians declared they were fullbloods and the legal battle started. On this point of blood status, experts declare, the whole seven-year controversy hangs.

Settlers on the land and innocent investors will be protected in all cases, it is stated.

A BOMB-MAKER BLOWN TO PIECES.

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) Aug. 7.—An unidentified white man was blown to pieces here this afternoon in a crowded city park, when either dynamite or nitroglycerin believed to have been concealed in his pocket exploded. Police authorities declared they were unable to tell how the explosive might have been set off and are investigating.

Parts of the man's body were blown fifty yards. Forty or fifty persons within a short radius of the man were uninjured. One man who sat on the same bench was scarcely bruised.

INFERNAL MACHINE KILLS ITS MAKER.

COLORADO SPRINGS (Colo.) Aug. 7.—John Dorr, who was injured while working on an infernal machine at his residence here last evening, died at noon today without having regained consciousness. Both eyes were destroyed; his hearing was deadened and his feet and legs were torn by splinters of wood which were driven through them. Late developments tend to confirm early reports that Dorr had been mentally unbalanced for some time and that he had planned to "get even" with some imaginary enemies.

In the Dorr home today were found twenty-nine sticks of dynamite and a complete outfit of electrical batteries, ether, acids, fuses, an alarm clock, wires and an outfit of wigs, mustaches and long whiskers. The dynamite was brought to the Dorr home from Castle Rock, according to the police, who said Dorr had acted strangely for some time and has told of a mysterious man with a "long, brown beard" who had injured him.

ELUDING A MOB BROTHERS SURRENDER

TULSA (Okla.) Aug. 7.—After eluding a mob, William Towery, a negro, who, with his brother Cecil, is accused of the murder of Charles Vaughn, wealthy oil man, surrendered to the authorities here late yesterday.

They are quoted by Undersheriff Lewis as saying:

"We killed him when he accused us of stealing a quart of whisky."

So are We.

ASHAMED OF WILSON AND HIS BLUNDERING.

G.O.P. Nominee Opens Fire on President's Foreign and Home Policies.

DETROIT (Mich.) Aug. 7.—Charles E. Hughes, in the first set speech of his transcontinental trip, tonight assailed the administration vigorously for its foreign policy, its Mexican policy, for appointing men whom he termed inexperienced to diplomatic posts and for what he characterized as a "raid upon the civil service of the United States."

"He kept us out of war," Mr. Hughes said, referring to the President and a Democratic campaign slogan, "yet we seized Vera Cruz. That was war—very ignoble war. And it was called war over the bodies of those dead soldiers; it was called a war of service.

"Talk about what is your policy. What is the President's policy—does anyone know? Has the Executive ever had a policy for more than six months on the Mexican question? I repeat, who knows today what the policy of the administration will be three months hence? My friends, the trouble is that this administration has written such a record that, no matter what it says, you do not know whether it will stick to it.

ASHAMED OF WILSON.

"We have had an exhibition during the past three years which, I confess, fills me with a deep sense of shame. I have not a particle of militaristic spirit in my system, but if I am elected President I will see to it that American rights in Mexico are respected."

Mr. Hughes assailed the administration's course toward upholding American rights abroad during the European war.

"When I say that I am an American citizen," the nominee said, "I ought to say the proudest thing that any man can say in this world. But you can't have that pride if American citizenry is a cheap thing, if it is not worthy of protection this wide world over. There is no man who could successfully present to an American community the platform that an American citizen's rights stop at the coast line and that beyond that American life is to be the prey of any marauder that chooses to take it."

The nominee cited the Republican platform declaration that 30,000 government positions had been taken from the operation of the civil service law during the present administration and declared that that sort of thing has got to stop.

CITES AN INSTANCE.

He told of an instance where, he said, "an eminent scientist" in the Coast and Geodetic Survey, "a man of very eminent rank," had "been displaced to make room for an excellent stock breeder and veterinary surgeon." The Federal Trade Commission, Mr. Hughes charged, "was fairly emasculated with the law by the men, for the most part, who were appointed to places upon it."

It was "inexcusable," Mr. Hughes asserted, for the administration to take "in country after country in Latin America, where we have frequently said we desired to cultivate the most friendly relations," men in the diplomatic service who "had represented the country with credit and had acquired an admirable and important experience and put in men utterly inexperienced." Past administrations, the nominee said, "had sinned in that particular, but standards were being made and there were men in our service of long experience and fine training." Other appointments by the President were assailed.

"If we are to have a Secretary of State," Mr. Hughes declared, "we want a man who will stand before the world as a man of learning, of skill, of experience, of power."

Mr. Hughes also laid stress on what he termed the need for industrial brotherhood and closer co-operation between employers and employees. There was no capitalistic class, no laboring class in prosperity, he said, but the prosperity of the country or its lack affected all citizens. It behooved the men responsible for the policies of the country, he said, to look forward to the day when Europe, at peace, would wage fierce commercial competition with America and to guard American workingmen against that time.

A SECOND SPEECH.

After his main address at Arcadia Hall, Mr. Hughes delivered a second address at the Light Guard Armory in which he reiterated many of the statements made in the first address.

Mr. Hughes spent a strenuous day in the stifling heat of Detroit. He made six speeches between noon and 10 o'clock tonight. The first talk of the day was delivered in a little room of the hotel which he made his headquarters and was addressed to about forty manufacturers, interested in the social welfare of their employees. The second address, delivered in the same room, was on suffrage. One hundred women heard him repeat his New York declaration that he wanted the question speedily settled granting women the vote through amendment to the Federal Constitution.

After lunch the nominee went to the ball game. He shook hands with the members of the Detroit and Philadelphia American League teams and watched one inning of the game. Then he motored away to two of Detroit's big automobile factories and addressed crowds at each on industrial co-operation. Between speeches he held many short conferences with local political leaders, shook hands with about 2000 persons, and managed to Further Advances of the Slavs—Italians Capture Strong Defenses.

LONDON, Aug. 7, 11:35 p.m.—A Reuter dispatch from Petrograd says:

"Their successes to the south of Brody bring the Russians within fourteen miles of the Tarnopol-Lemberg Railway. It is reported that the Austrian forces at Tarnopol already are retiring in the direction of Zlochoff."

OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

PETROGRAD, Aug. 7 (via London, Aug. 8, 12:40 a.m.)—The official communication from general headquarters issued this evening reads:

"On the Stokhod, in the region of Zarecse our troops delivered an assault, and without firing a single shot, drove the enemy out of a section of his trenches which we occupied. We took twelve officers, 200 men and one machine gun.

"Our success also developed further in the northern sector of the territory we captured on the Sereth. In this sector Voronah reserve troops especially distinguished themselves, being animated by the general high spirits of the troops which rushed the enemy.

"On Sunday we captured in this region thirteen officers and 4000 men, some of them Germans, also two howitzers and several machine guns. The fighting was very fierce. A great number of wounded Austro-German prisoners are arriving.

"Caucasus: Under pressure of the Turks, our troops in Persia have retired to the region east of Kermanshah."

THE ITALIAN REPORT.

ROME, Aug. 7 (via London, 8 p.m.)—Italian troops have captured strong Austrian positions commanding communication between the Travenses Valley and the Sare torrent in the Gader Valley in the Tolmino region, says an official communication issued today by the War Office. Several Austrian attacks on the slopes of Monte Zebio, on the Sette Communi plateau, were halted by Italian artillery.

On the lower Isonzo the Italians gained possession of nearly the whole of Hill No. 85 and held it against violent counter-attacks. Prisoners taken in yesterday's fighting by the Italians total 3600. A large amount of ammunition and guns also was captured.

The official statement follows:

"Between the Adige and the upper Isonzo artillery activity continues. On the Sette Communi plateau the enemy exploded several mines, destroying one of our trenches on the slopes of Mount Zebio, and then delivered attacks which were checked completely by artillery.

"In the Tofana region our troops captured strong enemy positions commanding communication between the Travenses Valley and the Sare torrent in the Gader Valley. The enemy continued to bombard violently the upper Dogna Valley and we retaliated by bombarding the military buildings at Tarvis, Raibl and Tolmino.

"On the lower Isonzo our troops began yesterday an attack on some strong enemy positions, while in the Monfalcone region our offensive, which began the 4th, continued to make progress toward Hills 65 and 126. After effective preparation by artillery and trench mortars our troops carried several lines of the enemy's intrenchments.

"During yesterday's fighting we took 1500 prisoners, including 100 officers, one of whom was regimental commander and one a staff major, and captured a battery of three guns, several dozen machine guns, numerous rifles and much ammunition."

THE BRITISH REPORT.

LONDON, Aug. 7, 11:51 p.m.—Determined attacks on the British lines north and northeast of Pozieres this morning were repulsed, according to the British official statement issued tonight. The Germans succeeded in entering the British lines at one or two places, but were driven out.

THE FRENCH COMMUNIQUE.

PARIS, Aug. 7, 10:50 p.m.—Late today the French troops captured a line of German trenches between Hem wood and the Somme, according to the official statement, issued by the War Office tonight. They also made some progress south of Thiaumont work.

North of the Somme at the end of the afternoon our troops brilliantly carried a line of German trenches between Hem wood and the river, east of Monacu farm. One hundred and twenty prisoners and about ten machine guns remained in our hands.

"South of the Somme our artillery was very active. Enemy batteries in the region of Lihons were effectively shelled.

"On the right bank of the Meuse, in the course of a small action, we made progress south of the Thiaumont work. We took five machine guns, and found in the conquered elements numerous German dead. After a somewhat spirited engagement we captured some houses in the western part of the village of Fleury.

"Our lines in the region of Vaux le Chapitre and Chenois were subjected to a bombardment."

Belgian communication:

"Throughout the night and day the artillery was active, especially in the direction of Dixmude and Steenstrasete. At Steenstrasete an engagement with bombs occurred which ended in our favor."

THE GERMAN STATEMENT.

"Persian front: A vigorous Russian attack north of Bukan was repulsed with heavy enemy losses. The Russians were compelled to retire northward.

"In the Mush sector our attack on Mt. Kouna resulted in the heading flight of the enemy. Our pursuing troops penetrated the village of Kiretchan, 3 kilometers southwest of Mush, and captured 200 prisoners, six guns and seven machine guns."

THE AUSTRIAN REPORT.

VIENNA (via London, Aug. 7, 10:40 p.m.)—The Austrian official communication, issued today, says:

"Heavy fighting is taking place in the region of the Gorizia bridgehead and on the Doberdo plateau. Stubborn battles on Monte Sabotino and Monte San Michele lasted throughout the whole night and have not been concluded. Counter-attacks by the Austrians resulted in the recovery of a greater portion of the advanced positions captured by the Italians in their first assault. The Austrians have taken thirty-two officers and 1800 men prisoner."

TURK BLOW AT CANAL IS DECISIVE DISASTER.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—The recent attempt of the Turks to reach the Suez Canal has proven a greater failure than the earlier reports indicated. Lieut.-Gen. Sir Archibald James Murray, commander of the British troops in Egypt, reports today that besides taking more than 3000 prisoners in the battle with the Turks at Romani, his forces inflicted very heavy losses on them and had continued the pursuit of the retreating troops for eighteen miles, clearing the Turks from the Katia Basin.

Military writers are unable to fathom the reason why the Turks ventured on their attack. The only conclusion reached is that the Turkish military authorities were misled as to British preparations for defense of the canal and hoped to make an impression on rebellious Arabs, who are extending their hold on important places in Arabia.

The Turkish advance as far as Romani was made in the face of the greatest difficulties, their six-inch guns being dragged across the desert by oxen after relays of planks had been placed to prevent the wheels sinking into the sand.

A HEART-BREAKING PACE FOR COMPETITORS.

The No-Waste, High Quality, Home-Delivered Circulation of The Times Keeps it Far in the Lead of All Other Local Newspapers in the Volume of Advertising Printed.

During the month of July, 1916, The Times printed 1,045,800 lines of paid advertising. This was a gain of 120,300 lines over the corresponding month of last year and is 232,800 more lines than were printed by the second local morning paper, and 446,800 more lines than were printed by the third morning paper during the same month.

The total number of separate "want ads" printed in The Times in July was 62,673, which is a gain of 3,224 over July, 1915, and is 17,666 more separate announcements than were printed by the second morning newspaper and 47,629 more than were printed by the third morning newspaper.

In fact, The Times, as usual, not only printed more "want ads" in July than the other two local morning papers combined, but it printed a greater number of separate "want ads" than the three evening and one morning paper put together.

The Times is the natural channel of communication in Southern California between buyers and sellers, and producers and consumers, and its enormous advertising patronage is the logical result of getting its advertising patrons quicker and better results than any other Pacific Coast newspaper.

The stability, soundness, permanence and remarkable purchasing power of The Times' circulation is the envy and despair of all its local contemporaries.

AT ARCADIA HALL.

Mr. Hughes, at the meeting at Arcadia Hall, spoke in part as follows:

"You have here the problem of the sudden introduction of a foreign alien population. You do not remain indifferent. You set an example in Americanization to all America, and we point to Detroit as the one place in this land where there has been shown a quickening of interest in the development and training and Americanizing of alien men and women who have come to this land.

"It is perfectly idle to expect a sound sentiment of American unity if those who come among us as strangers come merely to be exploited. When we admit to this country men and women, we assume obligations with respect to their training, as well as grant to them the privileges; and we have got in this country to be awake to those obligations, and to realize that supremency in the thought for every one who comes into the community; to have the language understood and spoken; to have American sentiment replace foreign sentiment; to have American ideals replace foreign ideals; to have a resultion that this is a country, not simply giving an opportunity to work for dollars, but a country that is devoted to the betterment of human life; to the enlightenment of the standards of human thought; to the building of a state where things connected with human understanding and purpose; we want America first in the mind and heart of every one in this land. But America is not simply a land for the man of special talent or of distinguished aptitude. This is the home of the average man, the ordinary man who is doing his best, whatever it is, by talent or aptitude; and in our large industrial occupations where thousands are gathered together in one service, we want recognition of human brotherhood in providing for the welfare of those who make the wealth of this great country.

SAFEGUARD WORKERS.

"We want workingmen to be safeguarded from every injury that can be prevented. We want the health of the workingmen looked after; every means provided which conduces to the proper standpoint of living; every means provided for proper recreation; appropriate means for education, for vocational training. In short, the workingman who is in his job and expects to continue in that job ought to feel that he is doing something worth while for a community that appreciates it and gives him a fair chance to lead a happy and decent life.

"We have got along in this country altogether too easily with our wealth of natural resources. Men have been content, living apart in their separate lives, to try to make something for their individual selves; but now we have reached a point where it is necessary, as it has been necessary abroad, to try to reduce all waste, to try to prevent all unnecessary outlay and to try to make business successful according to the spirit of a well-organized, economically-conducted business.

"I want efficiency in the government of the United States. If a manager was to be appointed in an automobile factory, would you appoint a man that never had seen an automobile? If you want to run successfully a large business enterprise in production, would you appoint a man that never had seen the works and didn't know anything about it, simply because he voted the ticket that you vote? My friends, the world that we are about to live in in the next twenty-five years is going o be a very different world from what it has been.

HOW TO JUDGE.

"Now, it you have a great administrator appointed to a position of extraordinary power, how will you judge his efficiency in the conduct of the enormous business interests with which he is intrusted? Judge him by his words? I judge him by his appointments.

"I want to state a few things that are not very pleasant things to state to an American audience, but this is a time when we are facing facts. We have said frequently that we desire to cultivate the most friendly relations with Latin America. What have we done? In country after country we have taken out men who have given long periods successfully to the study of diplomacy and have represented the country with credit and had acquired an admirable and important experience. We have taken them out and put in men utterly inexperienced. I say it is inexcusable. Let me tell you this country will never be worthily represented or take its place properly among the nations if men are appointed merely to satisfy partisan obligations, and there is no ideal of continuity of service in our diplomatic intercourse.

"Past administrations, I grant you, had sinned in that particular, but standards were being made and there were men in our service of long experience and fine training. It was just as though you had taken the manager of an automobile factory that had gotten up to that place after many years of application, who thoroughly knew his job, and put him out and put in an inexperienced man, simply as a matter of personal favor.

"We have had a very serious disregard of the spirit and requirements of our civil service law. In a Democratic community the hardest thing in the world, in a sense, is to get a general appreciation of the importance of having fit men attend to the business of the government. They understand it in private business. But, between you and me, in public business anything goes.

"The Republican platform says that under the Democratic administration there have been created since March 4, 1913, over 30,000 places which have been taken out of the original operation of the civil service laws. Read enactment after enactment providing in substance as follows: That the agents, clerks and other persons to be appointed under this law shall not be appointed under the restrictions of an act passed so and so, at such a time, which means the act establishing the classified civil service period.

CIVIL SERVICE RAID.

"It has been a raid upon the civil service of the United States and the American people ought to understand it. And we have had positions, expert positions, requiring expert knowledge, which have been subordinated to the demands of what I regard as an ignoble partisan expediency.

"Take, for example, the Bureau of the Census. There was Mr. Durand, an expert statistician, a very competent man, well understood to be such. We have him retired and in his place we have a Democratic politician from a southern State. And he is hardly warm in his place before he is transferred to the Trade Commission. The Trade Commission itself was fairly emasculated by the men, for the most part, who were appointed to places upon it.

"My friends, that sort of thing has got to stop in this country if we are going ahead to meet the demands that are immediately upon us.

"We had in the Coast and Geodetic Survey an eminent scientist, a man who had won distinction in connection with his scientific work, a man of very eminent rank. He was displaced to make room for an excellent stock breeder and veterinary surgeon.

"In the Coast and Geodetic Survey we have had a very extraordinary condition with regard to expert places. I mean places that were taken out of the civil service laws. I shall not go into the exact figures. In the year ending about April, 1916, there were taken out 104—that is, appointments by executive action, removed from the operation of civil service laws to the number, I believe, of about 1000. I believe that some twenty of those were made without seeking the advice of the Civil Service Commission. I believe that about twenty-two were made after seeking the advice and with the approval of the Civil Service Commission, and I believe that sixty-two were made in opposition to the advice of the Civil Service Commission.

"I used to think that if there was one thing which the American public was less interested in than anything else, it was the actual administration of their government. But I am beginning to believe that with the object lessons we have had abroad, and with the very definite appreciation of the crisis we are in, there is a different notion in this country about those things. I hold it is the most unworthy thing an administrator can do to take public business and pay political debts with it.

THE PROUDEST THING.

"When I say I am an American citizen, I ought to say the proudest thing that any man can say in this world.

"You cannot have that pride, you cannot have that love, if American citizenship is a cheap thing; if it is a dishonored thing; if it is something which is not worthy of protection this wide world over.

"There is no one who could successfully present to an American community the platform that an American citizen's rights stopped with the coast line and that the moment he left his shores he was a prey to any person that saw fit to murder or destroy him. If a man is an American citizen, he goes with his rights and the right to the proper protection of his country under international law, wherever he journeys throughout the world. Now that is what the Democratic platform told us in so many words in 1912. They did not stop with Americans. They did not stop with American citizens. They said, 'American citizens and their property.'

"We have had an exhibition in the last three years which I confess fills me with a deep sense of shame. I would not counsel any action that was contrary to the dictates of those usages and customs and recognised rights and obligations which we compromise under the name of 'international law.' It was our business to stand for all the rights of American citizens under international law—to vindicate international law.

THE CASE OF MEXICO.

"Take, for example, the case of Mexico. We had certain things that we had a right to demand of Mexico, and there was a proper way of demanding them. We should have said that we insisted upon the protection of the lives and property of American citizens, of just protection, such protection as we are entitled to from a government that performs the functions of government. We could have said we would not recognize Huerta if his government could not discharge those functions. We had no business to recognize him unless the executive was satisfied he could discharge those functions. But it was another thing to take an attitude quite apart from the protection of American rights and wage war upon an individual and try to take control of Mexican affairs in the interest of what we think they should be.

"That was precisely what was done. We did not contest ourselves with not recognizing Huerta. There is no question about recognizing or not recognizing Huerta. That was a matter to be determined according to proper principles, according to the understanding of the executive as to capacity of that government, if it was a government, to furnish adequate protection and discharge international obligations. But our administration said to Huerta: 'You get out. You can't even be a candidate. We won't allow you to run for office. We are so determined to get rid of you that you can't put yourself up to be voted for.' And immediately after recognition was withdrawn from Huerta it was extended to that incomparable, that ideal character, Villa.

HOW WILSON ERRED.

"In my judgment, the administration did a very wrong thing in abandoning its proper international attitude and taking the attitude that no international lawyer could understand—that no Mexican could understand.

"Well, the Mexicans did not understand our attitude; there was a fight and nineteen Americans and a large number of Mexicans were killed. And they, the administration, they 'kept us out of war.' That was war and very ignoble war.

"Having gotten rid of Huerta, what next did we do? We said: 'Let these Mexicans spill as much blood as they want to—that is their blessed privilege.' So we coquetted with Villa; we coquetted with Carranza, and we showed our disposition to favor any bandit in the land.

"I never heard of a more extraordinary expedition than that punitive expedition we sent down there. Was it a military expedition or was it not? If it were not a military expedition, why send it? If a military expedition, why ignore all the essential requisites of a properly-managed military expedition? It went down between two lines of railroads; it could not use either. Our American troops went mile after mile for hundreds of miles into Mexico on a punitive expedition right between two lines of railway which they could not touch. They could not go into a town. It was an absurdly arranged expedition. Of course, it could not succeed. Of course, we got into trouble and more blood was shed.

"My friends, we have made people dislike us because we did not have a straight and clear path. The path of international right is like the path of the just that shineth here more and more unto the perfect day. It does not make any difference who your opponent is. If you state a position that is right, and he knows that it is right, you are going to establish the justice of your cause. And America, with her power, never need be afraid of espousing a just cause.

"Let the Mexicans understand once for all that we do not intend to meddle with their affairs; that we desire that they shall perform their obligations to us, to protect our citizens, protect them justly in the enjoyment of their lives and their property; that they will perform the guarantees that they have given us, and then we shall have peace and happiness.

STABLE GOVERNMENT.

"If they can establish a stable government we will do all that we can to support it. Talk about policy! What is the President's policy? Does anyone know? Has the Executive ever had a policy for more than six months on the Mexican question? I repeat, who knows today what the policy of the administration will be three months from now? The trouble is that this administration has written a record that no matter what it says you don't know whether it will respect it. You cannot make much progress along that line.

"Now, then, we want, in the first place, to have our record perfectly clear that we are going to insist that Mexico shall treat our citizens properly, and we are going to insist in a way that will make us respected, because we are not going to say we are not entitled to it, but we are going to see that that is done which we are entitled to have done. We are going to have that platform understood: Protection to American citizens, protection to the property of American citizens, protection to our border from incursions; the rights that we have as one nation relatively to another nation at our doors.

"We are going to insist that those obligations be performed which we, as the United States, are going to have performed; that we do not propose any meddlesome policy; that we do not propose, while we wish well for everyone in Mexico, to do anything that is contrary to their wishes, if they do what we are entitled to have done. Put that clearly before them, insist upon that, and we will make some progress towards having it done at the earliest opportunity, and our policy should be to see that it is done and promptly.

"There is not a particle of militarism in my composition, but there is a sturdy determination, if I am put in a place of executive responsibility representing all the American people, to see to it—and that is my purpose—that America's rights are safeguarded, and that America's name in administration, in policy and in execution is honored throughout the world."

Hughes, Presidential candidate of the Republican party, will stop at six cities in the State instead of two, the places being Helena, Butte, Forsyth, Miles City, Missoula and Glendive, as he passes through Montana on his way to the Coast.

AIR OFFENSIVE OF THE ENGLISH.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, Aug. 7, 7:15 p.m. (via London, 11:10 p.m.)—The aviators felt the concussion 9000 feet in the air when a brigade of British aeroplanes bombarded Henin Lietard and Oignies (Ar-as) with a shower of 112-pound bombs.

When the German sheds and storehouse at Martinpuich were fired by incendiary bombs a vast pillar of smoke from the conflagration rose to a height of 5000 feet.

The work of the British aviators recently has surpassed the wildest flights of imagination. Aerial fights, which attract slight attention, are only an incident of the offensive campaign. Overwhelming numbers of planes are concentrated on the narrow front of the Somme battle in co-ordination with a superior unceasing volume of gunfire. The planes move in larger and larger flotillas, and there have been cases with a dozen engaged in battle on either side.

The German first-line and second-line trenches, headquarters, billets and supply depots of all kinds have been bombed, the aerial offensive being limited by the number of planes and the supply of bombs.

Not a village occupied by the Germans in the neighborhood of the front that has not had its aerial bombardment, according to accounts. Barges and motor trucks have been set on fire. One moving train was blown up.

The dry official accounts of the aviation corps and their aviators jargon reveal a number of amazing feats every day. A pilot describes an average experience thus:

"I first attacked a Roland, but finding a Fokker behind turned and maneuvered under his tail. I fired one drum at very close range, and the Fokker nose dived and went down with a spin."

If it had gone down direct it would have been a "crasher."

Miss Sandes was in Serbia when the war broke out and joined a hospital as a nurse. Later, she enlisted as a regular soldier and went through the last campaign.

Southern Candidate Resumes Up-State Tour.

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Aug. 7.—Highly-salaried employees of the State government, appointees of Gov. Johnson, are being used in the northern part of the State to trail Willis H. Booth in his campaign tour as the indorsed candidate of the Republican State conference for the Republican nomination for United States Senator at the primary August 29.

John F. Neylan, president of the State Board of Control, and Freeman H. Bloodgood, member of that board, have been advertised all along the route of Booth's tour as the men on the trail. They have been sent on to attempt to carry on the Governor's programme of party wrecking. Neylan was one of the administration "big guns" in the nonpartisan campaign last fall, when the Johnson scheme of party destruction was defeated by 44,000 majority at the polls.

BARNSTORMING.

Along with these administration attractions, who have been billed like one-night-stand barnstormers in the up-country counties, has been an advance guard of employees from the State capital, doing the advertising on the fences and barns through the country. One of these advance agents is said to be drawing a salary from the State as a messenger or the like around the State Capitol.

Anyway, it is all in the family, for, while this group of State-paid spellbinders is on the way, the Governor is using in this city and on his southern tour, according to authentic report, another staff of energetic State employees who are at the same time enjoying far from indifferent remuneration from the State treasury.

Chairman Willcox Addresses Chicago Hamilton Club.

Misgovernment by Wilson Theme of His Speech.

Bring the Story Home to People, He Urges.

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Aug. 7.—"Bring the story of misgovernment at Washington home to the people."

With this keynote phrase, William R. Willcox, chairman of the Republican National Committee and national campaign manager for Charles Evans Hughes, launched the Presidential campaign of the Republican party today at a luncheon tendered by the Hamilton Club in a brief speech delivered the way for Mr. Hughes's coming tomorrow.

Henry R. Rathbone, president of the Hamilton Club, introduced Willcox to several hundred Republicans awaiting his message. Factions of the party were represented at the speaker's table. Among S. Deneen and Roy O. West were there. Mayor Thompson had a seat next to Mr. Rathbone, and Edward J. Brundage sat to the left of Mr. Willcox.

NO FACTIONAL FIGHT.

"This fight is not the fight of a faction—half the party—but a battle of the united Republican party," said Mr. Willcox. "And we are starting with our ranks strengthened by the additions of those who are sick of the vacillating policies of the other parties.

"We are behind a candidate who was in no sense a candidate for renomination. He has honored the party and the party has thrust him, but his name has been on the nation for ten years. In the months of the campaign we will expect to hear of the speeches of the Hamilton Club. You have a militant organization.

"If we bring the story of misgovernment at Washington home to the people we will bring about an overwhelming victory in November."

Following Mr. Willcox's speech, at the request of President Rathbone, W. B. Brewster, secretary and organizer of the National Republican League of New York, made a short talk.

HUGHES RALLY.

Preparations are being made here for the Hughes rally at the Coliseum tomorrow night. Le Roy Steele, chief sergeant-at-arms, announced the appointment of E. J. Ward and John B. Carroll as his assistants. J. Frank Hemmes and Roger J. Marcy will be two of his assistant ushers. Hugh H. Gordon, chief usher. Walter E. Bachman, chairman of the Hall and Speakers' Committee of the regular Republican organization, has full charge of arrangements at the Coliseum, where Mr. Hughes will speak.

Mr. Willcox left Mr. Hughes at Niagara Falls yesterday and came on here to attend the preliminaries. He was two hours and eighteen minutes late in arriving, the train which was due at 9:40 a.m. arriving shortly after 10:50 o'clock. He went at once to the Blackstone Hotel.

"If the election were held tomorrow Mr. Hughes would carry the Northern State," Mr. Willcox said, expressing satisfaction with developments up to this time, particularly with the statement given out by Raymond Robins Saturday. "Mr. Robins's attitude," he continued, "completely disposes of the pernicious vendos of the argument that Progressives are not behind Mr. Hughes. This campaign is going to be one of a united party."

"Will Hughes carry New York?" the national chairman was asked.

"Yes, big."

"By 100,000 plurality?"

"I am not dealing in plurality," he replied. "It is foolish to deal in it, but he will carry the Empire State."

John R. Monk, assistant to the chairman, arrived with Mr. Willcox. Former United States Senator Joseph B. Hemenway of Indiana, who was mentioned among the candidates for the western managerial berth, was one of the early callers on Mr. Willcox. Soon after his visit Frank H. Upham, western treasurer, arrived.

The lands have been closed to entry for various reasons. They average in value from $5 to $20 an acre and are located in forty-five different counties. Kingsbury will stay in Washington until the bill is given final approval and signed.

Country to be Divided into Twelve Land Bank Districts, as First Work of New Commission — Increased Agricultural Prosperity Predicted.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Organization of the Farm Loan Board, which is to administer the new rural credits system, was perfected here today with the induction into office of its four appointive members, the designation by President Wilson of an executive head and the selection of a secretary. The board will meet again tomorrow to consider how it may be best to obtain information upon which to base its first important work, division of the country into twelve land bank districts with a Federal land bank in each.

President Wilson named George W. Norris as farm loan commissioner or executive head of the board. The oath of office was administered to Mr. Norris and C. E. Lobdell, Herbert Quick and W. S. A. Smith, the other appointive members, in the office of Secretary McAdoo, who is ex-officio a member and chairman. Mr. McAdoo made a brief speech pointing out that the Farm Loan Act was the first legislation to provide financial aid for farmers on long time and easy terms enacted since the foundation of the government and declaring it meant more prosperity for the farmer and more, in consequence, for everybody else.

At a short session afterward, W. W. Flannagan of Montclair, N. J., was chosen secretary of the board. Mr. Flannagan has been secretary of the joint commission which investigated rural credits in Europe and drafted the present law.

The board also discussed the itinerary for its trip to the Pacific Coast and went over the applications and recommendations of forty cities for Federal loan banks. No route for the trip was determined on, but it is probable the board will go West through Northern States and return to Washington through the South. Hearings will be held in Washington, also, but no date has been chosen for them.

CHILD-LABOR BILL IS ATTACKED BY WORKS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Senators Overman, Democrat, and Works, Republican, attacked the administration child labor bill with constitutional arguments in the Senate today, the former insisting that if it were upheld nothing would be left of States' rights, and the latter declaring it a step directly toward a despotic centralization of power.

The bill was defended by Senators Pomerene, Husting and Vardaman, Democrats. Senator Husting declared opponents of the measure were hiding their real sentiments behind the constitutional question. Senator Brandegee, Republican, announced he believed the measure invaded the rights of the States.

Despite his belief that it is unconstitutional, Senator Works said he would vote for the bill, because he thought the Supreme Court should finally pass upon the question. He criticised Southern Senators supporting it, charging that they were too willing to give up the rights of their State government.

"The tendency to surrender the sovereignty of the States is particularly apparent among the Democrats," he said. "I have come to think that the representatives of the Southern States will surrender any of their sovereign rights if they can get a sufficient price for them from the national treasury."

HIKONOJO DEAD.

Vice-Admiral of the Jap Navy Expires in Tokio.

[BY PACIFIC CABLE.]

TOKIO, Aug. 8, 7:55 a.m.—Vice-Admiral Hikonojo Kamimura of the Japanese navy is dead.

Vice-Admiral Kamimura, who was 67 years old, was one of the most prominent officers in the Japanese navy. As commander-in-chief of the second squadron he played an important part in the Russo-Japanese War, and is believed to have led in the naval assault with the British squadron against the German base at Tsing-tao, China, in 1914.

In August, 1906, the squadron of Admiral Kamimura defeated the Russian warships Rurik, Gromoboi and Rossia off the east coast of Korea, sinking the Rurik and capturing the other two, badly damaged.

Prior to this Kamimura had been unpopular because the Rurik, with which the Gromoboi and Rossia composed the Vladivostok squadron, had destroyed two transports loaded with Japanese troops. His victory redeemed his reputation, with the masses in Japan, and his reputation was further enhanced later when his squadron took a leading part in the battle of the Sea of Japan, when Russia's naval power was destroyed. After this battle he was awarded the title of baron and invested with the grand cordon of the Rising Sun and the first-class order of the Golden Kite.

IN AGREEMENT ON ARMY BILL.

Disagreement on the Naval Building Programme.

Whole Issue Now Goes to the Senate and House.

National Defense Legislation Nears Completion.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—National defense legislation in Congress is approaching completion. Today the conference committee on the army appropriation bill submitted a complete agreement and the conferees on the naval bill voted to disagree on the big construction programme and personnel increases, the only remaining points of dispute in that measure, so that the issues might be referred back for quick settlement by the two houses themselves.

Members of the House, the majority of whom are away on vacation, will be called back to Washington next week for a vote on the building and personnel sections of the naval bill. Representative Padgett, chairman of the House committee, said he would submit the conference report Thursday and call it up the following Tuesday or Wednesday for action.

President Wilson, Navy Department officials and other adequate defense champions of the administration are expected to make a determined effort to induce House leaders to yield to the Senate programme for construction of sixty-six vessels, eight of them to be capital ships, during 1917. The House provided for only five capital ships. If it votes to insist on its original provisions, it is said the Senate conferees will offer to give up the three-year continuing programme in the Senate bill as an inducement to House leaders to reconsider and accept the big programme for the first year.

ENLISTED STRENGTH.

Agreement was reached by the conferees on administrative features of the personnel section, but they could not get together on the question of increases in the enlisted strength. The administration is anxious that the larger Senate authorization in this section also be accepted. The Senate provided for a total enlisted strength of 74,000, but the House for only 61,000.

Secretary Daniels's plan for promotion of navy officers by selection instead of by seniority was accepted, but was so amended that it would not apply to officers lower than the rank of commander. Provision is made for a board of nine admirals to pass on promotions and six must agree in each case. It also was agreed that captains who are not promoted before reaching the age of 57 shall be retired and that commanders not promoted to be retired at 45, and lieutenant commanders at 40.

AGE OF RETIREMENT.

The conferees also raised the general retiring age limit from 62 to 64. Senator Chamberlain will call up the army appropriation report in the Senate tomorrow. The bill as agreed on carried $267,597,000, or $55,000,000 in excess of the House bill. The report had been delayed several days while the War Department made an unsuccessful effort to induce the House conferees to recede from their insistence on the Hay amendment making retired officers exempt from provisions of the military code.

Among the big army appropriations as agreed to are: For aviation, $13,281,666; pay for officers of the line, $10,000,000; transportation, $23,000,000; clothing, $20,289,000; subsistence, $20,000,000; ordnance store and ammunition, $10,000,000, of which $5,000,000 shall be expended for purchase of munitions, the remainder to be made for manufacturing ordnance stores and supplies, $9,500,000; armored motor cars, $500,000, reduced from $1,000,000; field artillery and ammunition for National Guards, $20,000,000, reduced from $28,200,000; for automatic machine rifles, $12,000,000, reduced from $15,000,000.

For training camps, such as that at Plattsburg, N. Y., the bill appropriates $2,000,000, a reduction from $4,300,000 in the Senate bill. An appropriation of $450,000 in the Senate bill to reimburse the State of New York for expense in mobilization of the National Guard was stricken out. A $2,000,000 appropriation is included in the bill as agreed to for relief of dependent families of guardsmen and enlisted man.

This was announced today after a meeting at the Hotel Manhattan when S. E. They have not yet been chosen. FATE OF PRISONERS WORRIES BRITISH.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—Apprehension exists as to the fate of the British prisoners taken at the time of the surrender of Kut-el-Amara to the Turks. Lord Robert Cecil said in the House of Commons today that repeated inquiries had been made through the American Embassy at Constantinople to ascertain the whereabouts of these prisoners, but that no reply had been received from the Porte. This, he said, inspired considerable misgivings, as the prisoners were compelled after the fall of Kut-el-Amara, to cross the desert at the worst season of the year.

FORECAST EIGHT STATES SOLIDLY FOR HUGHES.

Political Correspondents Finds Sentiment for Republican Nominee in Middle West is Overwhelming, with Only Indiana and Missouri Doubtful — Illinois Progressives Return to Fold.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Aug. 7.—The Evening Sun tonight prints reports compiled from political correspondents in the States of Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Missouri, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, which show that eight of the States favor Hughes. Indiana and Missouri are doubtful. The correspondents were instructed to consult the highest political authorities of all parties in making inquiries.

Were the election to be held now would Wilson or Hughes carry the States? Would Hughes poll the normal Republican vote? How would the Progressive vote split as between Hughes and Wilson. How would the questions involved in the European war, Mexico and military preparedness affect the attitude of the voters? These were the questions asked.

Estimated pluralities in the ten States follow: Illinois, 140,000, Hughes; Ohio, 50,000, Hughes; Missouri, doubtful; Indiana, doubtful; Iowa, 75,000, Hughes; Kansas, 50,000, Hughes; Nebraska, $15,000, Hughes; 50,000, Hughes. Totals, ten States (157 electoral votes) for Hughes, 123, doubtful, thirty-three.

On the Illinois situation, the Sun says:

"Conservative reports are that Hughes will carry the State by approximately 40,000, that practically all the Progressives have returned to the Republican party and that the European war and Mexican question will not affect the party totals appreciably. Republican optimists say that Hughes will get 200,000 plurality, counting on a large proportion of the women's vote. The tariff will also be a strong factor, sentiment being strong for a return to protection."

HIS MEXICAN BLUNDERS COME HOME TO ROOST.

Wilson may Take the Stump to Alibi for Himself. Democratic Leaders in Many States Said to be Lukewarm in Their Attachment for Him — Long Conference and Worry in the White House.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Aug. 7.—President Wilson and Vance McCormick, his campaign manager, had a long conference at the White House this afternoon for the purpose of devising plans to offset the activity of Charles E. Hughes, the Republican Presidential candidate.

One of the results of the conference was a decision that President Wilson should tour the country.

Another result was a determination on the part of the President to expedite as far as possible the adjournment of Congress, which will necessitate the application of pressure to the Senate to push through the Democratic legislative programme.

The President and his campaign manager appreciate the imperative necessity of convincing the voters particularly in connection with Mexico, that what has been done has been in the interest of the country. The President realizes the Democratic leaders in the various States are less for him personally than they are for him because he is the Democratic candidate.

Assurances have been received that these leaders will work energetically. Mr. Wilson and Mr. McCormick are especially anxious to reach the important class of voters which has increased tremendously as a result of the campaign of 1912 and the recent break-up of the Progressive party.

When the President will start on his transcontinental tour has not been determined and cannot be until Congress has adjourned.

The President has been exceedingly anxious to delay the speech of acceptance until the Democratic legislative programme was enacted.

It now is reported that Congress may not adjourn until September 15. The Maine elections take place before that date and while the voters will cast their ballots only for State officers then, the Democrats want Mr. Wilson's speech available to circulate among them. The President would like to have the notification ceremonies some time during the latter part of August. Congressional leaders, therefore, will be urged to expedite the legislation and go home. If they are unable to complete their work by September 1, the chances are that Mr. Wilson will receive the Notification Committee at his home in New Jersey, within the next three weeks. The President will go to Maine, according to the plans tentatively adopted, and early in September will start on his trip across the country. His principal speeches during the campaign will be made in New York, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, since these four States are the ones expected to swing the election.

Members of the Cabinet will be expected to take the stump. Secretary of State Lansing will make a speech in Maine and will go to other States. Secretary Lane intends to leave in a few days for Alaska. Upon his return he will speak at meetings on the Pacific Slope. Secretary of Labor Wilson will appeal directly to the laboring men, Secretary of Agriculture Houston to the farmers, and Secretary McAdoo to convince the financiers.

RAILROAD WAGES

Shall they be determined by Industrial Warfare or Federal Inquiry?

To the American Public:

Do you believe in arbitration or industrial warfare?

The train employes on all the railroads have voted whether they will give their leaders authority to tie up the commerce of the country to enforce their demands for a 100 million dollar wage increase.

The railroads are in the public service—your service. This army of employes is in the public service—your service.

You pay for rail transportation 3 billion dollars a year, and 44 cents out of every dollar from you goes to the employes.

On all the Western railroads in 1915, seventy-five per cent of the train employes earned these wages (lowest, highest and average of all) as shown by the pay rolls—

	Passenger		Freight		Yard
	Range	Average	Range	Average	Range	Average
Engineers	$1747 3094	$2195	$1537 3076	$2071	$1056 2445	$1378
Conductors	1543 2789	1878	1454 2933	1935	1151 2045	1355
Firemen	1053 2078	1317	751 2059	1181	418 1552	973
Brakemen	854 1719	967	874 1961	1135	862 1821	1107

The average yearly wage payments to all Western train employes (including those who worked only part of the year) as shown by the 1915 payrolls were—

	Passenger	Freight	Yard
Engineers	$2038	$1737	$1218
Conductors	1772	1624	1292
Firemen	1218	973	832
Brakemen	921	1000	1026

A 100 million dollar wage increase for men in freight and yard service (less than one-fifth of all employes) is equal to a 5 per cent advance in all freight rates.

The managers of the railroads, as trustees for the public, have no right to place this burden on the cost of transportation to you without a clear mandate from a public tribunal speaking for you.

The railroads have proposed the settlement of this controversy either under the existing national arbitration law, or by reference to the Interstate Commerce Commission. This offer has been refused by the employes' representatives.

Shall a nation-wide strike or an investigation under the Government determine this issue?

TRY TO BOMB TAXI COMPANY.

Unionists in Chicago Fail to Blow up Building.

Explosion Follows Warning of "Drastic Action."

Outrage Sequel of Attacks Upon Employees.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Aug. 7.—One hundred and fifty automobiles belonging to the Walden W. Shaw Taxicab Company were in danger of destruction early today when an attempt was made to blow up the company's building at No. 1006 South Wabash avenue. Guests in a number of hotels in that district, including the Blackstone, the Congress and the Auditorium, were awakened by the explosion. No serious damage was done. Officers of the company said labor troubles were responsible for the attempt upon their property.

The bomb, apparently of dynamite, was placed against an iron elevator door at the rear of the building. The explosion shattered a number of small windows in the rear and wrecked a large plate glass window at the front of the building, but did no harm either to the brick work or to the cars.

"Labor trouble is responsible," said John Herts, manager of the company. "Seven years ago, an attempt was made to unionize our chauffeurs, but they were satisfied with working conditions and pay and refused to join the union. Since then, we have had trouble. We are not afraid of any bomb explosion. They can bomb themselves blue in the face but it will not do them any good."

CULMINATION.

"The outrage," he said, "is only the culmination of a series of assaults upon our drivers and of attempts to damage our machines. Several small bombs have been placed under our cars when they were left unguarded. I think I know the name of the organization that has been making trouble and I shall place my facts before the State's Attorney today. Our men are not unionized and do not want to be. We were told some time ago that 'drastic action' would be taken if we did not unionize our business."

The attack on the main building of the company was the culmination of a number of smaller attempts to cripple the Shaw business. Chauffeurs are said to have been assaulted several times and efforts have been made to wreck automobiles by placing small bombs beneath them while the drivers left them unguarded for a few minutes.

DRIVERS IN PANIC.

A number of drivers for the taxicab company who were in the building at the time of the explosion were thrown into a temporary panic. They regarded the bomb as an attempt on their own lives, as well as on the company's property. Their fears were allayed when it was seen that the damage from the explosion was small.

The South Side Elevated structure runs through the alley at the rear of the building at the point where the bomb was placed. It was not damaged.

GUILTY REALTY MAN GRANTED PROBATION

STOCKTON, Aug. 7.—Edward Bauer, a real estate operator, arrested here Saturday on a charge of attempting to extort money from H. Downing, a local business man, pleaded guilty in the Superior Court today and was granted probation for the term of one year.

Bauer threatened to make known certain alleged facts in Downing's past life unless the latter mailed him $50.

THE WEATHER ELSEWHERE.

Heat Relief in Rains is Promised Chicago by Forecasters.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Aug. 7.—Federal forecasters promised that storms this evening would break or modify the present heat wave, but the storms were in the Dakotas and Eastern Michigan and did not influence the torridity here. There were three heat deaths today among adults, and many babies died. The maximum temperature today was 97 deg. and it is 89 deg. tonight. All the East and Middle West continue hot. Eastern Canada reports 94 deg., twenty degrees hotter than Los Angeles.

STOP! CALOMEL IS QUICKSILVER

It's mercury! Attacks the bones, salivates and makes you sick.

There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when 50c buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, a perfect substitute for calomel.

It is a pleasant, vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and cannot salivate.

Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless.

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel your money is waiting for you.

Nearly Any Case of Tuberculosis can be helped in some measure by prompt and proper attention to right diet and hygienic living if taken in hand in the early stages. Eat pure, well-cooked food and avoid excesses. Live in the open air as much as possible and always sleep with windows wide open.

If such measures do not arrest the progress of the disease, try effective medication. For the best chances for recovery will be found in a strengthening of the normal body functions.

In many cases, Eckman's Alterative has helped in this needed upbuilding. In any case it may be tried without risk, since it contains no poisonous or habit-forming drugs. Sold by The Owl Drug Co. and leading druggists.

RELIEF PROMISE IN HEAVY RAINS.

Famine-swept Districts of Chihuahua Rejoice.

Foodstuffs from the Border Arrive in Parral.

Carranza Troops Close Upon Heels of Tames.

EL PASO (Tex.) Aug. 7.—Heavy rains falling today over Chihuahua brought a promise of relief to some of the famine-swept districts of the State. Mexican authorities in Juarez pointed out that with two or three more heavy falls shortly, crops will be given an impetus such as will alleviate in a large measure the distress of the peons. Private advices here indicated also that several carloads of foodstuffs from the border have reached the Parral district, where suffering was most acute.

Passengers reaching the border from Chihuahua City said that Gen. Trevino, commanding the Carranza army of the Northeast, plans to leave late in the week for Mexico City, where he will confer with Carranza on the industrial rehabilitation of Northern Mexico. During his absence, which will be for a period of about two months, it has been announced, Gen. Luis Ortiz, chief of arms of the garrison, will assume Gen. Trevino's duties.

CLOSING ON TAMES.

EL PASO, Aug. 7.—Carranza troops are close on the heels of the band of Mariano Tames, who, with several members of the civilian guard which he commanded, left Juarez Saturday with the announced intention of joining Villa, according to reports to Gen. Francisco Gonzales in Juarez. The reports said that the band, now about forty miles south of the frontier, near Samalayuca, consists of but seven men, including the leader.

There were originally twenty-five men concerned in the plot, the general added, but only eight were able to get mounts. One of these, sent back on an errand, was captured in Zaragoza. He had five bandoliers of cartridges, and said that the rest were no better equipped.

Two more of the band tonight arrived in Juarez and surrendered to Gen. Francisco Gonzales. They said that Tames, closely pursued by government cavalrymen, was accompanied by but four men when they left.

MILITIA HEALTH RECORD.

With 20,000 State and regular troops encamped here, medical reports show less than 3 per cent. of sickness, Gen. George Bell, Jr., commanding the El Paso military district, announced tonight. He added that the showing is remarkable, anything under 5 per cent. generally being considered good, and said the National Guardsmen's record is as good as that of the regulars.

Alvaro Obregon, Mexican Minister of War, today notified officials of the Soil Products Exposition, to be held here in October, that he had assigned them one of the military bands. This was taken as an indication of increasing friendliness of the two nations.

ZAPATISTAS SURRENDER.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 7.—Reports to the War Department announce many successes for the government forces over bandits and Zapata forces in small engagements, including the capture in Chihuahua of the Villa general, Gabriel Valdivieso, and the surrender and acceptance of amnesty of Gen. Malesio Albarran, with 150 Zapata adherents, in the state of Mexico.

GEN. BLISS RECROSSES.

COLUMBUS (N. M.) Aug. 7.—Gen. Tasker H. Bliss, assistant Chief-of-Staff of the United States Army, returned this morning from Mexico, where he completed a semi-official inspection of the troops with the punitive expedition.

Later, Gen. Bliss left for Deming, N. M., to investigate conditions in the militia camps.

FULTON RELEASED.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Carranza authorities have released Manager Fulton of the Mexico City power plant, a Canadian, on whose behalf the United States made representations. Special Agent Rodgers so reported today.

STUDENTS TO REMAIN.

EL PASO (Tex.) Aug. 7.—Battery A of the Massachusetts National Guard, known as the "millionaire battery," today declined the War Department's offer mustering out student companies and voted to remain on the border until the State troops are sent home. Every soldier in Battery A is a Harvard man except one, who comes from Princeton. The department's order relative to units composed of students becomes effective September 1.

OREGON EDITORS' PLANS.

MEDFORD (Or.) Aug. 7.—Next year's annual convention of the Oregon State Editorial Association will be held at Pendleton, Or., according to word brought here today from Crater Lake, where the editors held an informal session last night. Publishers of several daily newspapers will meet in Portland on September 11 to form an organization for mutual help.

ONE MAN IS KILLED IN A LABOR RIOT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WORCESTER (Mass.) Aug. 7.—One man was injured so seriously that he died, and several others were wounded during a riot at the mills of the Barre Wool Combing Company and the Norway Worsted Company this afternoon, when special officers who were guarding the plants fired upon a mob of strikers and sympathizers. The riot developed when an attempt was made to reopen the mills, where there has been trouble with the Polish employees for three weeks, with Portuguese strike-breakers. It was reported that half a dozen persons were shot, four of them seriously wounded.

One victim of the shooting died as he was being taken to a hospital.

Early in the afternoon the rioters still were beyond control.

HEART SUIT HINTS ACADEMIC SCANDAL

TWO PROFESSORS STARRED IN BALTIMORE ACTION.

Wife of University of Maryland Faculty Member Named Defendant in Case by Mrs. Soho, Whose Husband is Connected with City College of Oriole City.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BALTIMORE, Aug. 7.—Mrs. Helen Helgenberg Hemmeter, wife of Dr. John C. Hemmeter, professor of physiology and clinical medicine and regent of the University of Maryland and a leader in local society, is named defendant in a suit for $100,000 filed in the Court of Common Pleas late this afternoon by Mrs. Mary W. E. Soho, wife of Prof. Ariosto M. Soho of the City College.

The suit merely gives the names of the litigants and the amount of damages asked.

Harry Wolf, the attorney, when questioned, refused to give out any information. It was said about court that Mrs. Soho is seeking to recover damages for the loss of love and affection of her husband, who, it is said, has been friendly with Mrs. Hemmeter. It is alleged that Mrs. Hemmeter carried on a heavy correspondence with Prof. Soho for a number of years and that letters which contain warm protestations of undying love will form an important part of the testimony.

The Hemmeters have a handsome home in the fashionable section of Baltimore. Society was amazed when the charges become known. The parties are all prominent socially.

A GENERAL STRIKE OF THE TEAMSTERS.

HELENA (Mont.) Aug. 7.—A general strike was called today by the Helena Teamsters' Union, a new development of the strike several days ago of about thirty members of the union engaged in certain kinds of hauling. The new strike order adds about 100 teamsters to the idle men.

Today's phase resulted from the failure of proposals by both sides to arbitrate, when, at a meeting last night, a deadlock was reached on the question of the reinstatement of strikers in their places. The employers refused to agree to this proposal.

PRIVATE GARDINER IS FOUND GUILTY.

COLUMBUS (N. M.) Aug. 7.—Lewis O. Gardiner, a private of the First New Mexico Infantry, today was found guilty on a charge of failing to subscribe to the Federal oath which would muster him into the service of the United States with his company, June 14, last, after a trial before a general court-martial here. The verdict, together with the recommendations of the board, which were not made public, was forwarded to the Secretary of War by Lieut.-Col. George E. Stockle, president.

Through his attorney, Capt. John C. Watson, Gardiner made a plea for clemency but declined to reconsider his refusal to take the oath.

TO URGE THE LATINS TO JOIN PYTHIANS.

PORTLAND (Or.) Aug. 7.—Beginning the last remaining days of its twenty-ninth biennial session, the Supreme Lodge of Knights of Pythias today settled down to detail work so that adjournment may be taken Wednesday, according to schedule.

The spread of Pythianism over the western hemisphere through the translation of its ritual into Spanish is a proposal before the Supreme Lodge this week. The Grand Lodge of Florida took the position that the prototypes of the Pythian legend, Damon and Pythias, were Latins and that the chivalric sentiment of the order will appeal to the people of the southern continent.

Lecture on "Passion Play."

Civil Service Club Meeting.

The Civil Service Club will hold its regular monthly meeting at 8 o'clock this evening in the annex of the old Normal School Building. H. A. Payne of the city efficiency bureau will speak on "The New System of Auditing and Cost Keeping." The public is invited.

Consolidate Lodges.

The final steps in the consolidation of Marathon-Los Angeles and Irving Lodge of the Knights of Pythias will be taken this evening when the officers of the new lodge will be installed at a smoker and entertainment at 7:30 o'clock at Castle Hall, No. 106 North Spring street. The new lodge will be known as Los Angeles Lodge No. 2, and will be the second largest lodge in the State.

Postpone Hotel Opening.

The official reopening of the rejuvenated Nadeau Hotel at First and Spring streets, which was scheduled for yesterday morning, has been unavoidably postponed. A mechanical defect in the freight elevators must be remedied before the new furniture and outfittings can be lifted on the ground floor, it is said. The management, however, promises to have the hotel ready for business before the end of the week.

It is Finished.

WOMAN PATRIOT IS CALLED BY DEATH.

WAS ARMY NURSE, TRAVELER AND LECTURER.

Received Pension from Government Because of Civil War Service and Later Talked Publicly on Psychology and Metaphysics. Funeral Services this Morning.

Mrs. Hattie Harris, 77 years old, nurse in the field during the Civil War and traveler and lecturer in later years, died at 4:30 o'clock yesterday morning at her home in the Angelo apartments, No. 209 South Olive street. The funeral will be conducted this morning at 10 o'clock at the Faris, Carmichael chapel, Tenah and Flower streets, under the auspices of Stanton Woman's Relief Corps. The interment will be in Rosedale Cemetery.

Mrs. Harris was born in New York and when a young woman went to Wisconsin, where she married Nathan Hungerford, who enlisted as a volunteer when the Civil War started. She was a woman of intense patriotism and decided to follow her husband into the field. She became an army nurse and gave loyal service during the rebellion.

Several years after the death of Mr. Hungerford she married Charles Harris of Wisconsin. Later she moved to Denver, and about three years ago came to Los Angeles, to be with her only daughter, Mrs. Ida Shattuck. For years she was prominent in patriotic organizations and philanthropic work. She was a speaker of rare ability, a deep student and thinker, and traveled throughout the United States, giving lectures on patriotic subjects and psychology and metaphysics. Recently she had lived a retired life, on account of growing infirmities.

She was a member of the Army Nurses' Association, as well as of the Relief Corps at Cripple Creek, Colo., and was pensioned by the government as an army nurse. She was a woman of beautiful character and wide sympathies with humanity.

After coming to Los Angeles Mrs Harris frequently lectured in Hollywood and before private assemblages, especially on metaphysics.

ALLEGE INFRINGEMENT.

The Diamond Patent Company brought an action in the United States District Court yesterday, against Charles F. and Roy C. Murray, operating as the Murray Cabinet and Show Case Company of Fresno, alleging an infringement on a patent showcase. The usual prayer for an injunction, an accounting and other relief are asked in the bill.

Revenue.

SEVEN MILLION YEAR'S TAXES.

Slothful Taxpayers are Fined Many Thousands.

Collector Says Department's Supported by Penalties.

Thinks City Would be Loser by Consolidation.

Showing total collections of $7,051,542.98, Albert B. Conrad, City Tax and License Collector, filed his report for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1916, with the City Council yesterday. The amount of taxes collected totaled $5,956,673.25, while licenses, street lighting and weed taxes amounted to $1,094,870.73.

Penalties for nonpayment of taxes at the proper time totaled $34,290.63. Total expenses for the fiscal year were $38,204.48 and Collector Conrad says that six-sevenths of this amount, or $32,746.65, was expended in direct tax collections. He adds:

"It can readily be seen that the penalties will more than defray the expenses for the collection of taxes and the budget allowance is simply a loan to this department until these penalties are collected, therefore showing that this department is maintained entirely by the collection of penalties each fiscal year.

"In case of consolidation of the City and County Tax Collectors' offices would not this $34,290.63 be lost to the city; would it not be diverted to the county? This added to the $10,000 charged for collection of city taxes by the county would make the expense of collection of city taxes exceed by far the expense under the present system."

Collector Conrad says he calls the Council's attention to this "as there is at present considerable agitation in the matter." Members of the Council, however, stated they are in favor of the consolidation and believe it will result in a saving to the people.

UNDELIVERED TELEGRAMS.

"On completion of present construction work, including the erection of its own aluminum and iron foundry, the Simplex plant will be in a splendid condition to produce the highest grade of automobiles and aviation motors in this country. In fact, it will be better equipped to really produce (and not assemble) than any other plant in this country with the largest output of aviation motors in the world. It is absolutely necessary that the plant have its own facilities and expensive and special machinery to produce the proper quality for such machines. The capacity of the Simplex plant with the work completed will be more than ten times its output in 1916."

BIG BRANCH HERE.

The local factory of the Glenn L. Martin Company at No. 943 South Los Angeles street was opened August 24, 1915, with a force of fifteen employees and a capacity for manufacturing one aeroplane every eight weeks. There are now 165 employees at the plant and facilities for delivering eight machines a month. It is probable that the factory will furnish the foundation for the big local branch of the new company.

Officers of the local company are Glenn L. Martin, president; Caleb S. Bragg, vice-president, and Eugene Overton, secretary and treasurer. Hugo J. Donau is general manager of the company.

Mr. Martin went to Washington, D. C., four months ago to discuss with government officials plans for manufacturing aeroplanes for the army and navy in this country.

Mr. Martin, who has strongly advocated increasing the scope and efficiency of military aviation of the United States, recently presented a $7500 biplane to the aeronautical section of the second battalion of the California Naval Militia.

According to his present plans, Mr. Martin will return to Los Angeles in two weeks.

One Hundred and Twenty Acres Goes to Man Who Persisted.

Involving 120 acres in the Imperial Valley Register Roche and Receiver Mitchell, of the local Land Office yesterday decided a three-cornered fight between Reuben H. Preese, Hugo G. Beattie and George W. James, in favor of the last-named.

James originally filed on 160 acres of land, but the land was withdrawn from all forms of public entry.

Later, the General Land Office restored the land to entry and awarded James a preference right to forty acres. Then James made a settlement on the additional 120 acres covered by his original entry, and the contestants alleged that as he had been awarded forty acres of land he had exhausted his rights.

The local officials find that James was entitled to enter a quarter section of land, and as he had made settlement on the additional 120 acres in advance of either Preese or Beattie, that he was entitled to the acreage.

FEW YEARS TOO LONG TO WAIT.

At Seventy-eight Man Kills Himself to Join Wife and Children.

Fred Pflager, 78, is the oldest self-slayer on the police records. He shot and killed himself, after eating breakfast in his home, No. 934½ Corydon drive, yesterday morning. The body was found by his niece, Miss Clara E. Pflager, who kept house for her uncle.

Mr. Pflager had seemingly contemplated suicide for almost a month, but was undecided in what way to accomplish it. His advanced age had apparently affected his mind, and the death of his wife and his children had depressed him so he didn't care to live.

His body was taken to the Pierce morgue. No inquest will be held.

Judge Jackson, attaches of his court and litigants in the trial of the $150,000 damage suit brought by the Weinberg Company against George H. Bixby, the Pacific Electric Company and the Dominguez estate adjourned yesterday to several points along the Los Angeles River between Domingues and Long Beach.

The plaintiff in the damage action alleges the defendants dug ditches and canals to divert flood waters, and this resulted in the destruction of property owned by the Weinberg Company.

As soon as the present suit is decided another one is scheduled against the same trio of defendants. Mrs. Rose Heller is asking for damages of $160,000 on the same grounds.

TO HELP STUDENTS.

Large Money Gifts are Received by Occidental College; More Than Thirty Thousand Dollars to Become Permanent Memorial Trust.

Gifts of money totaling more than $33,000 have been received by Occidental College in the past few weeks, according to an announcement from the office of the president yesterday. The most notable of the donations is one of $30,500, given by a man whose name is withheld for the present. It has been accepted by the trustees of the college and will be added to the permanent assets of the institution.

By the conditions imposed, the annual income can be used for scholarship aid to worthy students. The donor further asks that in administering the permanent memorial trust, preference shall be given young women preparing for the medical profession, if such apply for aid. The details of the trust are similar to those of the Pridham memorial fund of $25,000, which Occidental received in January.

President Baer further announces an aditional $2600 has been received within a month from anonymous donors, this money also to be used under the president's direction in aiding worthy and needy students.

Lucky Number.

THIRTEEN ARE RE-EMPLOYED.

But Twenty of Famous Fifty Teachers are Not.

School Board is Unable to Agree on Four.

Action on Two Other Cases Definitely Put Over.

The long controversy over the failure of the Board of Education to re-employ about fifty teachers was practically concluded last night, when the board made final disposition of the cases of all but six of these teachers.

The matter was presented in the report of the committee of the whole, and the results in brief were: In the case of two teachers no "moral objection" to their re-employment was found, but it was ascertained that they have gone to other fields and their employment therefore is not practicable. One teacher was re-elected on half time; thirteen were re-elected; twenty were reported "not to be elected;" action was definitely delayed on two cases. In the case of four the members of the board were unable to agree and their cases were "laid on the table." In these latter cases, as a matter of fact, the vote would have stood three to three among the board members present, and it was decided best to await the return of W. J. Washburn, when each side hopes to secure his vote.

In the report of the Committee of the Whole the procedure used in hearings by the Teachers and Schools Committee was set forth, and it was decided that all principals, supervisors and teachers were given the opportunity to personally appear with witnesses and counsel and offer such documentary evidence as they desired. Most of the proceedings and hearings were fully reported by stenographers.

In the case of Burt O. Kinney the committee found "no moral objection" to his re-employment, but that he has contracted with another school district and therefore is not available. The same finding was reported in the case of Miss Florence Blunt, but as she has left the State and has no desire to return, the report was against her re-employment.

RE-ELECTED.

W. J. Cordner was re-elected on half time only. The following were re-elected: Rae G. Van Cleve, Homer Martin, Elizabeth Blair, Olivia Esterbrook, Myrtle La Touche, Martha Ripple, J. Sinclair Dowey, Mae Carvell, Mrs. Cora Freeman, Sidney V. Good, J. W. Marbut, A. B. Pierce and M. S. Kushney.

NOT RE-ELECTED.

The teachers not elected are: Reina Bullis, Carrie Burke, Edgar Boughn, Helen Patten, Percival Cooney, Mrs. Winifred Doolan, Ralph Dignowity, Frank Fitch, Edith Green, Edna Larson, Meta Newschwander, Katherine Sale, Emily Spauncey, Emma Keller, Helen McGully, Adda M. Post, Charles Rillict, Frederick Schiller, Herman Saloon and Olive Wente.

As to the advisability of re-electing A. N. Hatherell, J. C. Reinhard, C. L. Welch and James Weinstein, the report set forth that the committee was unable to agree, and these were the names that were laid on the table, awaiting the return of the seventh member of the board. It was also decided to defer action on the cases of Raymond Coutchie and Florence Schwarz.

When the vote at the board meeting was taken, Mrs. Waters was excused from voting on the cases of Burt Kinney and Miss Florence Blunt, and when it came to the list of those who were not to be re-employed, Member McCormick did not vote against Mrs. Winifred Doolan. These were the only exceptions, and otherwise the vote was that of six members on the actions that were taken.

STATEMENT BY FRANCIS.

Superintendent Francis, after the meeting adjourned, stated that he has strong hopes that the board will re-employ the teachers whose cases have been deferred.

"I think it would be very unjust to these teachers if they are not re-elected, after their cases have been dragged out until it is practically impossible for them to obtain positions in other schools, as they have to do

Average Cost.

EIGHTY-FOUR DOLLARS A YEAR PER SCHOOL PUPIL.

LOS ANGELES school children are well behaved. With a daily average attendance in the kindergarten primary and grammar schools of 51,384, or a total of days attendance for the year which closed on June 30, last, of 9,685,893, there were only 480 cases of corporal punishment.

In the high schools the record was better. Only sixteen of the elder pupils came to suffer from the rod, and yet there was an average daily attendance of 6268 and a total enrollment of 7420, and the days attendance for the year reached 1,181,456. These facts are contained in the annual report of retiring Superintendent of Schools John H. Francis, filed with the Board of Education, last night.

In the common schools the enrollment for the year was 72,050, a gain of 2244 over the previous year, and 2097 teachers were employed. The total actual cost of the kindergartens for the year was $264,822.10, and for the primary and grammar schools, $3,938,031.30. The average cost per pupil therefore was, in the kindergartens, $54.07, and in the grades $63.08, a general average of $58.57.

There were 296 teachers in the high schools, of whom 67 were men and 296 women, who were paid in salaries $1,429,811.95 of the total of $3,199,061.25, which the high schools cost for the year. The average cost per pupil, based on the daily average attendance in the seventh and eighth grades of the intermediate schools and the high schools was $109.39. This gives an average cost per pupil in all grades of school work of $83.98.

The enrollment in all public schools was: Kindergarten, 8890; day primary and grammar, 59,660; evening primary and grammar, 6744; day high school, 11,710; evening high school, 15,326. The gain in enrollment over the year 1914-15 was 9768. Of the total enrollment, 52,855 were boys and 49,485 girls.

The total outstanding district bonded indebtedness was $5,197,500 for the elementary schools, and the total value of property of those schools, $11,389,965.

The high school bonded indebtedness for the district is $3,169,000, and the high school properties are valued at $5,009,643. The total value of school property owned by Los Angeles school district is set down at $16,399,608.

DE BAKER ESTATE TIED UP FOR EIGHT YEARS?

THE distribution of the $7,000,000 estate of the late Mrs. Arcadia de Baker by her forty-two heirs, is being prevented by an outstanding note of $704,439 which matures eight years from now, according to revelations made yesterday before Judge Shenk by referees in the matter.

This note was given by R. A. Rowan & Co. to cover a part of the purchase price on a large portion of the Laguna Ranch, lying east of the city and now being divided into small tracts by the Laguna Land and Water Company.

According to statements made yesterday, several of the heirs who have an interest in the note have borrowed money on their shares and given it as a security, which causes new and unforeseen difficulties.

When the suggestion of the sale of the note was made, attorneys for the heirs objected on the ground that it would probably not bring more than 80 per cent. on such a forced disposal.

Attorney H. W. O'Melveny indicated that some of the heirs represented by him would agree to take the collateral if the mortgages against it would be transferred against real estate given to other heirs in lieu of their interest in the Laguna Ranch. The referees declared that such a solution of the problem would necessitate a new apportionment of the entire De Baker property.

In order to find out whether some amicable adjustment of the note proceedings can be arrived at, the referees and attorneys were given until Thursday to canvass the situation and report again to the court.

At the Harbor.

LABOR CLASSES WELDED; TWO UNIONS NEAR RUIN.

IN THE interest of efficiency two labor unions were placed on the toboggan at the harbor yesterday. Employers, having gathered a normal force of men for the handling of shipping, no longer recognized longshoremen and dockworkers as distinct classes of men. They sent their employees to work on vessels and docks regardless of their union affiliations. It is believed this means the passing of the two unions. The work progressed in good shape.

Union longshoremen who are still holding out against the inevitable presented demands to the dock companies and were told there was nothing to talk over. Many of the companies are closing their commissaries. Dockworkers who went to work at the terms of the employers now want an increase of 5 cents per hour, and have presented this demand to the employers. This request, however, is unaccompanied by a threat to go out again on strike.

Until the strike longshoremen indignantly refused to do work on the wharves, and the dockworkers declined to step upon the vessels and unload. Employers recognized two classes of workers, and were put to much inconvenience as a result. When the dockworkers and half the longshoremen returned to work at the employers' terms they were notified that they must go wherever the foreman sends them, else their places would be filled from the central employment bureau which is to be maintained by the companies.

The life of the unions has depended largely upon this classification of labor.

After four days' work the dockworkers who returned to work appointed a committee to call upon the employers and ask for an increase of 5 cents per hour. They are getting 40 cents for regular work and 60 cents for overtime. They complied with the order of the foremen to do longshoring work, and think they should get a small advance therefor. It is probable that both classes of workmen, amalgamated into one class by the foremen, will be given the same wage, probably 45 and 65 cents per hour.

More policemen were ordered back to the Central Station yesterday, and there are now barely two-score extra men guarding against trouble at the harbor. It is probable that the remaining extra men will be retained there permanently.

CITY AND GAS COMPANY FILE RATE FIGHT BRIEFS.

THE briefs of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation and the city of Los Angeles, summing up the arguments presented during the past several weeks of controversy before the State Railroad Commission in the case of the city of Los Angeles vs. the Southern California Gas Company and the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, were filed late yesterday afternoon in the local offices of the State Railroad Commission.

City Attorney Albert Lee Stephens, in charge of the case as presented by the complainant, the city, sums up his argument, by declaring that in many ways the figures presented by the gas companies might be cut. He points out in detail these items.

At the same time, however, he declares that the city has purposely refrained from enacting regulatory ordinances in order that these problems should reach the Railroad Commission unincumbered by legal requirements, which might be inconsistent with the commission's views.

William A. Cheney, Paul Overton and Herbert J. Goudge, attorneys for the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, declare in their brief that, owing to the increase in heating value of the gas heretofore supplied by the corporation, due to the introduction of a limited supply of natural gas, the rate of 68 cents now

HEROIC RESCUE UNITES HEARTS.

Belle to Wed Football Star Who Saved Her Life.

Battle with Rapids of River Their Introduction.

Whirlwind Two-day Suit Wins Promise of Marriage.

A romantic story of a whirlwind courtship that immediately followed a dramatic rescue of its heroine from the swiftly-moving current of the Salt River, a few miles below the Roosevelt Dam, developed yesterday when friends of Miss Genevieve Forrester of this city received word from the young woman that she is to be married this fall to Harding C. Randolph, college football star and son of a wealthy Pittsburgh manufacturer.

Miss Forrester, who lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Forrester, at Beverly Hills, has spent the past month with a camping party of prominent Los Angeles society people on the Apache trail, near the Roosevelt Dam. Accompanied by a girl friend, she was wandering by the river bed when a false ledge gave way, precipitating her into the swift current.

ENTER THE HERO.

Her friend screamed for help, but they were alone. At that instant a high-powered roadster swerved along the trail at full speed. The young man who was driving heard the screams, and, applying the emergency brake, skidded to a sudden halt. Without stopping to remove his coat, he plunged into the river, very much as he had plunged through opponents' football lines.

Battling with the current, the young man reached the drowning girl's side. Not at all like the heroes of fiction, he saved her by the simple expedient of weaving his left hand in her hair while he buffeted the current with his other hand. In this manner he was able to keep her head above water while pulling her toward shore.

IN HIS CAR.

The sight of the two dripping-wet young people, their hair matted about their eyes and the girl unconscious, did not suggest romance to the terrified companion as she reached the spot on the bank gained by the youth and his burden. The young man introduced himself as Mr. Randolph of Pittsburgh, and suggested he take both girls back to their camping party in his car. As soon as Miss Forrester had recovered this was done.

Men in the camping party supplied Mr. Randolph with dry clothing. The young man explained he was on his way to join friends farther along the trail, but readily accepted an invitation to spend a few days with the party of which Miss Forrester was a member.

As a result, but two days had passed before the young people were engaged. The wedding is to be this fall in Los Angeles. The young couple will undoubtedly live in Pittsburgh, but expect to spend their summers here. A month each year, however, will be set aside for a pilgrimage to the spot where they first met, on the bank of the Salt River.

FORTUNE FOR A LABORER.

Four Hundred Thousand Goes to Him, His Mother and Sister.

A parallel to the case of the Southern Pacific track-greaser who came into a great fortune after thirty-seven years of the most menial toil, was supplied yesterday in the Probate Court of Ottawa, Ill., when Burton Harris of Los Angeles was formally notified that $200,000 of a wealthy uncle's estate goes to him personally and $200,000 more to his mother and sister.

Mr. Harris has been employed as a laborer.

LESSON IS COSTLY.

Child Attempts to Solve for Himself the Mystery of Steam Power and is Terribly Scalded by the Kitchen Tea Kettle. Will Recover.

Someone told Willie James, 4 years old, No. 133 South Figueroa street, the steam from a kettle on the stove was the same power that made locomotives move along the railroad tracks. Recently he had ridden on the trains, and the question of the steam mystified him greatly, as he couldn't understand why the kettle didn't travel like the engine.

Yesterday he decided perhaps all the kettle needed was a push to make it start on a long journey. So he climbed to a low stool and gave the kettle a hard shove.

The kettle moved, but towards him, and then it tipped over and delivered its scalding contents over the child. His head, shoulders and back were terribly burned.

His mother took him to the Receiving Hospital, running all the way up and down the steep hill on First street, with her suffering baby in her arms. When she reached the hospital she was exhausted.

Assistant Police Surgeon Hiller treated the child with such success it is probable the patient will recover.

Supervisors Asked to Extend Duties of County X-ray Expert.

The County Roentgenologist will in the future be in charge of the radiographic and fluoroscopic work at the County Hospital. In the past the X-ray expert has devoted himself exclusively to X-ray work, and in addition to three meals each day has received $75 per month for his services.

Dr. Whitman, superintendent of the hospital, requested the Board of Supervisors to extend the duties as well as the pay of the roentgenologist, giving him $100 a month and only one meal and calling on him for work that rightly comes under the scope of his profession.

A special ordinance will be necessary to make this change and it is now in course of construction by the County Counsel.

MARRYING MAN IS SENTENCED.

Six Years for Rumanian Who Admits Three Wives.

Came to America with One, then Acquires Two.

He's to be Deported After Serving His Time.

Ianchu Zacharia, a Rumanian tailor, known as "Jack" Zacharia, who pleaded guilty to bigamy, was sentenced to six years in San Quentin by Superior Judge Craig yesterday, his plea for probation being denied.

The record of the man, secured by Inspector Connell of the Immigration Service, and who will see that he is deported when he serves his term in the penitentiary, shows that he had three alleged wives.

His first was Rosa Lieser Berkovich, whom he married, in Yassy, Rumania, February 4, 1904. They had one son, Seril, and afterward the wife transferred all her property to the husband. Zacharia came to this country in 1907, and later on his wife came, being admitted through the efforts of Senator Hitchcock and some of her friends.

She joined her husband at Omaha, but he soon disappeared, and on January 15, 1914, at San Bernardino, he married Ida Kurtz, who led an immoral life in Nevada, Oregon, Arizona and New Mexico, and the evidence shows that Zacharia knew all about it and shared in the proceeds.

On August 18, 1915, Zacharia married Nellie K. Getchell, previously married, whom he met at Maurietta Springs, the ceremony being performed by Justice Frank Forbes. They lived at Watts for some time, and in November, 1915, he pawned the jewelry of wife No. 2, and used the money. Meanwhile Zacharia attempted to become an American citizen, having filed a declaration of intention, both at Omaha and in this city.

His pernicious white-slave operations came to the attention of Capt. Connell and the evidence in the case was marshaled by Joseph F. Nardini, a deputy inspector. Mr. Nardini was in court to furnish Zacharia's record, but it was not asked for by Judge Craig.

W. W. Early, who disposed of a fictitious check for $33, also pleaded guilty in Judge Craig's court, yesterday, and was allowed to go on three years' probation.

Tom Meredith, who pleaded guilty to passing a bad check, had his case continued until Thursday. In the meantime, his brother, a rancher residing at Roscoe, Tex., has promised to take care of the boy if he is released, and this will probably be done, on condition that he join his brother.

W. H. Turner and Luther Watkins, charged with arson, in setting fire to a storehouse in Watts, pleaded not guilty to the allegations in the complaint, and the trial was set for November 17. On motion of the defendants a severance of the trials was agreed to.

Not Enough Evidence to Convict Him on Assault Charge.

Hilario Reyes, charged with making an assault with intent to kill during the course of a free fight at Artesia, was dismissed from custody by Superior Judge Willis yesterday on the recommendation of Deputy District Attorney Selph. An insufficiency of evidence to convict was the reason given for the dismissal of the charge.

Judge Willis denied the petition for a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Dan Chino, charged with statutory rape. Chino is held in the County Jail.

Floyd Hutchins, charged with rape, pleaded guilty and his application for probation will be disposed of Friday morning. Meanwhile he was released on his own recognizance.

Arson Charge Against Edward Rossini Is Summarily Dismissed.

On the recommendation of the District Attorney, the arson charge against Edward Rossini was dismissed, yesterday, by Superior Judge S. W. Nichol of Tuolumne county, who presided in Department Eighteen of the Criminal Court in the absence of Judge Craig. There was not enough evidence to convict, according to the District Attorney.

Charles M. Clopston pleaded guilty to a grand larceny charge before Judge Nichol and the 21st inst. was set as the day on which he will be sentenced. E. G. Dundas, who pleaded guilty to disposing of a fictitious check, asked for probation and Judge Nichol set the 21st inst. to hear this application.

NATIONAL MILITARY SERVICE.

(To cast negative vote write the word "not" in blank space. This will negative the entire ballot.)

I am ——— an advocate of national legislation which will place the military policy of the country on the basis of a true democracy as provided in the Constitution of the United States.

I believe this can be brought about only by making all young men who are physically and mentally fit liable for military training before reaching the age of 21.

I believe that such a policy would not only produce the force of trained citizen-soldiers necessary to the preservation of the nation, but would conserve the human resources of the nation so as to reduce the criminal rate, produce a higher type of manhood and destroy all traces of class distinction by training and educating the poor and rich alike in the higher duties of citizenship under the same ennobling and invigorating system.

I believe that the Chamberlain Swiss System Bill (S. 1695,) or legislation along these lines, worked out with the advice of the General Staff of the Army, will solve the problem.

First Recorded Damage Suit Based on Auto Dimmer Law is Begun Against Woman—Accident Ascribed to Blinding Effect of Glare.

The first damage suit on record based on the alleged failure to comply with the law regarding the dimming of headlights on an automobile was filed yesterday in the Superior Court by Attorney W. S. Baird against Mrs. Mary A. Gibbler. It is the result of a collision on the Redondo boulevard the night of June 15. According to the complaint, the lights on the defendant's machine were not dimmed and so blinded the plaintiff that he could not see. The result was an accident. Damages to the amount of $652.50 are asked.

KEEPS DIAMOND IN SPITE OF HOODOO.

ATTORNEY'S SECOND ROMANCE ALSO IS SHATTERED.

Sues for Return of Sewing Machine and Ring Upon Which Another Sweetheart had Pronounced a Spell of Evil—Court Permits Girl to Keep the Gifts.

"The decision of the court unquestionably determines that the romance is broken," said Justice Brown, after ruling that in this case "possession is nine points of the law."

In this manner, Miss Martha L. Fleming, daughter of a Tennessee minister, was awarded full possession of a diamond ring valued at $250 and a sewing machine, given her by Attorney Clyde E. Cate.

Attorney Cate brought suit to recover these articles, declaring that the young woman, who had been his fiancee, refused to return them when the engagement was broken. On the stand, he stated that his particular reason for desiring return of the ring was that it involved a history.

The court inquired as to the history, at present, and the plaintiff answered he had once given it to another girl, who upon returning the ring when the engagement was broken pronounced on it a curse of shattered romances for anyone into whose possession it might come. "I guess her desires were fulfilled," said the attorney, as he looked ruefully at the young woman whom he had hoped to make his wife.

Miss Fleming declared it was Cate, and not herself, who had broken the engagement, and that as far as she was concerned, the engagement might still be binding. She also stated that the ring, as well as the sewing machine, had been given to her outright, and that books and other things which had been merely loaned she had returned when the attorney's landlady called her up and told her the engagement was at an end.

Her aunt, Mlle. Durant, teacher of French at the Westlake School for Girls, corroborated the matter of the gift of the sewing machine, declaring she was forced to dispose of her own machine for only $4 in order to make room for the new one, that was to be used in the creation of a trousseau for her niece.

When the court had ruled in favor of Miss Fleming, and she and her aunt left the courtroom, they were met by the defendant, who attempted a reconciliation, but were refused. The girl was wearing the diamond ring. She expressed no fear it would shatter any future love affair.

Southern California Soldiers on Border Appreciate Donations.

Letters from two officers with the Seventh California Infantry at Nogales, received yesterday by Secretary Wiggins of the Chamber of Commerce, indicate the men are in good health and that food and hospital conditions are improving.

Acknowledgement of $125 in cash was made and the situation summed in one letter as follows:

"I might state that through the different donations we have received through the Chamber of Commerce we have been able to considerably improve the quality and quantity of our mess, to the benefit of all concerned. Do not misunderstand me—that we are ill-fed—as such is not the case. It is simply a matter of men drawn from all walks of life with different tastes and appetites, being thrown into great bodies which must be fed rapidly and economically. Therefore the ration is limited, but of good quality."

Pow-wow.

VERBAL BOMBS FOR ENGINEER.

Councilman Calls Department Head "A Joke."

During Conference on Burks and City Budget.

Business Men and Officials Meet with Mayor.

Following a conference at Mayor Sebastian's residence yesterday, at which the budget and Efficiency Director Burks were the subjects discussed, Councilman Wheeler of the Finance Committee of the City Council stated the tax rate would be not more than $1.40 and perhaps less.

The conference, which was of three hours' duration, was animated from start to finish. The budget was dissected, the Burks battle fought over again, charges of graft in the City Engineer's office revived and the engineer himself was referred to by Councilman Wheeler as "a joke." He asserted that as an engineer Mr. Hamlin is all right, but as an executive over the City Engineer's office he is "absolutely nil."

The main object of the conference, which was attended by representative business men and all the members of the Council except Mrs. Lindsey, who is on her vacation, and President Betkouski, who was resting at Balboa, was to see if the budget could not be pared.

CAN'T BE DONE.

At its conclusion Mayor Sebastian said he did not see where any cuts could be made. He will, however, hold the budget in abeyance a few days before signing it, in the hope that some suggestions for pruning may be made and prove feasible. He will be glad to receive such suggestions from anybody.

An effort was made to patch up the difference between Councilmen Brain, Topham and Wright and Efficiency Director Burks. The Councilmen, however, intimated that it was impossible for them to get together with Mr. Burks.

Councilman Conwell urged that Mr. Burks be asked to attend the conference, but Councilman Topham said he would not be present at any conference with Mr. Burks. Councilman Wright also declined to meet Mr. Burks.

The three Councilmen emphatically stated that they did not want the efficiency department abolished, but desired a new head, and suggested H. A. Payne, research accountant of the department, for the position. He was formerly auditor for Sears, Roebuck & Co., Chicago.

FOR THE DEFENSE.

Councilman Conwell, chairman of the Efficiency Commission, said the commission has faith in Mr. Burks, whom he declared a highly-educated, thorough expert in the matter of municipal government, adding, he has done good work.

Councilman Wheeler said Mr. Burks had given him the greatest assistance, especially in the work of the engineering department, "in trying to clear out a set of grafters." He added, however, that Mr. Burks had talked too much for publication and had been indiscreet.

Earl Rogers, who presided at the meeting, put the question: "Can the differences be adjusted?" Councilman Wright said they could not; Mr. Burks had charged him with being connected with a crooked deal when, as a matter of fact, he was sick during the entire transaction and was present only at one conference.

Councilman Topham said no man could call him a crook and stay in the service of the city.

In connection with the budget consideration was briefly given to a statement submitted to the Mayor by Director Burks wherein it was stated $168,000 might be lopped off.

MUST HAVE MONEY.

Councilman Wheeler said they could not cut any more off without absolutely crippling departments. If they should make the cuts suggested now they would still be called on to make the expenditures during the year, he declared.

Representatives were present at the meeting from the Chamber of Commerce, the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, the Clearinghouse Association, the Realty Board and the Building Owners' Association, but none of these associations, Councilman Wheeler said, had been able to suggest any cuts after studying the budget several days.

The Mayor pointed out that 50 per cent or more of the tax rate is for bonded indebtedness, and Councilman Topham said this year and last they were carrying the peak loads on the interest charges; next year these expenses will be less.

The business men invited to the conference were Marco Hellman, Robert Rowan, Earl Rogers, W. W. Mines, H. L. Cornish and Gilbert S. Wright. Secretary Seward C. Simons represented the Municipal League. Newspaper publishers also were represented.

Fiddle Up.

WANT TO DANCE.

Initiative Ordinance on Question of Cafe Entertainment will Necessitate Special Election Unless Council Accepts Proposed Compromise.

Signed by more than 24,000 persons, the initiative petition requiring the City Council to place before the people the proposed ordinance, allowing regulated dancing in cafes and hotels was filed with the City Clerk yesterday.

Whether there will have to be a special election within sixty days depends upon the suggested compromise under which dancing will be allowed temporarily and the ordinance submitted to the voters at the same time as a number of charter changes which are to be balloted on in December.

Only three members of the Council have so far expressed themselves in favor of the compromise, and as many are opposed to it.

ARE QUIETLY MARRIED.

Miss Belle Livingstone, a popular employee at the City Hall, and Clyde Watson Smith, connected with the legal department of the water board, were married yesterday. Mrs. Smith is a sister-in-law of D. M. Carroll, minute clerk of the City Council.

CALL MEETING TO FOCUS FLOOD-CONTROL PROBLEM.

TO BRING the matter of flood control proceedings to a focus, the Board of Supervisors yesterday called a meeting of all those interested for Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the board rooms. This followed several periods of discussion of various phases of flood-control work.

The first question taken up was whether or not balloting on the $5,600,000 bond issue for starting the work should be a part of the general election in November or whether the question should be decided at a special election. Supervisors Pridham and Woodley argued for the former proposal on the ground that it would not only save the county from $25,000 to $35,000 for election expenses, but that it would also decide without question that the bulk of the people are against the expenditure of vast sums for such work at this time.

After much discussion the County Counsel was instructed to draw up resolutions fixing the precinct boundaries for a county bond election with the precinct boundaries of a general election, in order to make possible the voting on the bond issue next November, if this is decided ultimately to be most feasible.

A letter of Maj. G. B. Pillsbury, United States Engineer for this district, asking a conference to take up the matter of the Federal government appropriation of $500,000 toward a diversion dam in the Los Angeles River at Domingues, was read and will be discussed at the Friday meeting.

Maj. Pillsbury in his communication called attention to some of the government provisions which will have to be met before the appropriation is allowed. These include the granting of a right of way for diversion of the flood waters of the Los Angeles River, the cost of bridges and roads to be built and maintained and other similar matters.

OPINION ASKED.

City Attorney to Pass on Civil Service Commission Action.

The demand of the Civil Service Commission that all original pay rolls of the city be submitted to it for approval was declared by Councilmen Wright yesterday, to be a violation of the charter. He presented to the Council a resolution declaring the instructions void. It was ordered referred to the City Attorney.

Councilman Wright further moved that in future no communication changing or affecting the procedure, accounting or conduct of any department be issued from one department to another unless first submitted to the Council for approval.

Cleanse the Blood Banish Rheumatism

Rheumatism Due to Bad Blood. S.S.S. Your Remedy

Thousands have been made well. People in the poorest health, suffering from Rheumatism, with whom pain was constant. Who believed that their vitality was sapped beyond repair. It was proven to them that the cause of their trouble was the blood; that Uric Acid, the most faithful ally of Rheumatism, had gripped them. The poison in the blood had sapped its strength. The weakened blood has allowed poison and impurities to accumulate, and all energy was gone. They felt "poorly," were listless, pain was ever present, with poor digestion and dyspepsia. They tried S.S.S.—nature's blood tonic. They gave up drugs. This compound of nature's remedies of roots and herbs did what drugs failed to do. It literally washed the blood free from poison, and with the flow of pure blood came back health, strength, vigor and happiness. Get S.S.S. from your druggist. Insist upon S.S.S. THE MAYOR AND WOMEN PICKETS.

Go-easy Methods in San Francisco—What's the Matter with the Courtly Rolph. The Police and the Cooks.

BY JEANNE REDMAN.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6.—Everything is so topsy-turvy here with strikes, bomb outrages and politics that even Market and Powell streets no longer seem the same. I fear that bomb smashed as many glass idols as windows; somehow our Beau Brummel of a Mayor, our real Wild West District Attorney and our made-in-Ireland police force are shrinking up as though one were looking at them through the reverse end of an opera glass. They all should have been placarded with a sign reading, "Fragile, handle with care."

I have always regarded Mayor Rolph as an ideal chief executive, but I admit that I judged from outward appearances. I was perhaps unduly impressed by his John Drew salutation and his Charley Chaplin mustache. Besides, there was something of noble self-sacrifice in his resolution to continue to live away out in the Mission in a middle-class neighborhood when he had sufficient income to support a brown-stone front in a court on Nob Hill. I haven't lost my confidence in him yet, despite the unkind things some of those square-jawed men on the Committee of Public Safety are saying about him; I have simply mislaid it.

The Mayor has been distressed because nearly 200 restaurant and cafe owners have placed in their windows a new kind of decoration of an open-shop design; he thinks the display of open-shop cards is likely to incite to riot several thousand members of labor unions in San Francisco, and he has suggested to his associates of the Chamber of Commerce that this open defiance drags the general public into the labor disputes. He thinks that labor troubles, like soiled linen, should be kept in the basement. But the cafe owners say these cards are the response to the picketing of the restaurants; that the open-shop cards were only requested when the unions placed pickets before the cafes to bawl "unfair house" and to insult patrons.

Some members of the Committee of One Hundred accuse the Mayor of giving too much consideration to the walking delegates and too little to the business agents. Now, I understand that the unions have demanded of the Mayor that he resign from the Chamber of Commerce because it has declared for the open shop, and that the Law and Order Committee has asked that he resign because he is not aiding in the open-shop campaign. Uneasy lies the head that wears the municipal crown these turbulent days.

Dist.-Atty. Fickert is equally distressed. He was elected twice on the labor union ticket, and now he is in a position where he must prosecute a number of members of the Labor Council alleged for participation in that bomb plot.

Fickert is a great, splendid-appearing fellow. He was at one time a football hero, and he was raised on a rat California ranch and is a roughrider almost without a peer. But there are some who aver that his physical and mental strength are not on a par.

I heard him roundly denounced by some big men this afternoon because he has permitted those four alleged dynamiters to occupy the same cells in the County Jail. He says it is not his fault, that the cell allotment is up to the Sheriff, but the feeling remains that some one has been more interested in the welfare of the men arrested than in revenging an outraged community for the commission of a dastardly crime. I have always understood that in cases involving the loss of life the suspects were always kept in separate cells and were not permitted to communicate with each other, so that one could not tell whether the others had peached. I know that Labor Commissioner McLaughlin and some of the bosses of the Labor Council called on Fickert two days ago to ask him to go easy with the union suspects, and I confess that he looks as though he granted their request to the fullest degree.

Our police force seems to have lost all its backbone. The pickets before the uptown cafes are disgustingly insulting. A woman is forced to run a gauntlet of foul-mouthed abuse to enter or leave any of the picketed restaurants. The women pickets are the worst in that, but the men are filthy-tongued, too. But there is never a policeman in sight to whom to appeal. I walked twelve blocks on Market street this afternoon without seeing an officer except those at the crossings. The cops are so careful that they shall not get in bad with the unions that they avoid all the picketed cafes. My companion and I stopped to protest to a crossing policeman. He responded by advising us to keep out of the picketed cafes while the strike is on.

This is not really the worst of the police force. Two of the persons who gave information against the alleged dynamiters have been waylaid on the streets and beaten nearly to death, yet the police have made no arrests. One was a fine old gentleman past 80. He saw a man acting suspiciously on that terrible Saturday afternoon and went to the Emma Goldman meeting two nights to see if he could identify him there. On his way home the second night he was knocked down and left senseless in the street. Two of the women witnesses have left the city temporarily because they saw suspicious characters trailing them on the streets.

This is the first week of the cafe strike and the hunt for the dynamiters. I am wondering what the finish will be.

PLAYERS SHOW STYLE.

BURBANK COMPANY BRILLIANT IN "BROADWAY JONES."

By Henry Christeen Warnack.

You could not see a better play nor one more satisfactorily cast on Broadway, New York, than George M. Cohan's "Broadway Jones" as it is presented at the Burbank this week. When the brilliant eastern actor-manager first produced this bright success in New York he took the title role in person, but he did it no better than Percy Bronson at the Burbank, and the man originally seen as Robert Wallace was not so good as Warner L. Baxter, who puts more power and gladness into the role of Broadway Jones's friend than it takes to run a play.

Really, the way Baxter comes out in this piece is an agreeable surprise even to those who had expected the most from him. If he will create three roles like this his reputation will be made. Perhaps one reason that he never did so before is that he has never had the chance. In his year of work at the Burbank he has been branded consistently as "the villain," and there is such a reality to plays that it takes a little while to live such an impression down. Baxter was fair as villain, but not conspicuously brilliant. In juvenile leads he is polished, enthusiastic and altogether acceptable. His creation of Robert Wallace has the rare virtue of clarity.

As for Percy Bronson, people expected him to be good in "Broadway Jones" because he is excellent in every part that is youthful and natural. Like most actors, Mr. Bronson requires a part that is suited to his personality and delivery. Give him such a role and no young actor in this country is thoroughly enjoyable.

There may be better stock companies in the world than that of the Burbank, but there is none in the West at this time and never has there been one of better balance than the cast as it stands this week.

For one thing, Dora Mae Howe has the edge on any ingenue that has ever appeared in local stock as far as I am able to remember. She is never pert, but only refreshing. She is never cynical, but only clever. She is sincere and delightful, and always the little artist. She is also in such good faith that she does everything given her with the same excellence. She can come pretty nearly carrying a poor play, and certainly "Broadway Jones" is not that.

For character work the company has Frank Darien, Merle Stanton, Herbert Farjeon, Vera Lewis, Charles A. Nolles and John Burton. Everyone of them is both competent and pleasing, and each of them positively shines in the little gem of a comedy now playing. Mr. Burton's Judge Spotswood is gold without alloy. Every minute with him is a joy.

Miss Edith Lyle is charming and convincing as the girl. There is a southern fragrance about her characterization that is unfailing in its delicate appeal. She has never been more beautiful in the eyes of her Burbank audience than as Josie Richards, the chief accountant of the Jones Company.

Miss Stanton sustains the good impression which she made last week. This time we meet her as a wealthy widow, and she makes rare mirth of an ungrateful part.

Of course, "Broadway Jones" is not new, but it has been a long time since we have had anything more genuinely refreshing.

—Brisk.

HITS COME RAPIDLY.

BILL RADIATES ENJOYMENT AT THE ORPHEUM.

By Grace Kingsley.

Three hits in a row and a top-notch bill throughout make the Orpheum an unusually fascinating place to visit this week.

Nan Halperin, who daintily paints dramatic moods and tenses in pastel shades, from the delicately-naughty bridesmaid song to the fantastic frothiness of the divorcee number, with its aroma of sophistication, was welcomed back yesterday in her new act, "The Five Stages of Girlhood." Miss Halperin's art has improved and crystallized since her last appearance here, and she stands entirely alone in her own novel manner of entertaining.

The Kosloff dancers become more of a delight each time they are viewed. Daringly dramatic, but always balanced are their offerings.

If you close your eyes, Tang Cheong, the Chinese baritone, becomes successively Scotti and Ballfour, singing Italian grand opera or English ballads with equally charming effect. Miss Lin Far, one of the other members of the Imperial Chinese Trio, plays her violin in a manner which delights her listeners, and Mr. Fook Lok rattles off ragtime on the piano as if to the manner born.

Nate Leipzig does a lot of impossible things with cards, having in captivity an entirely novel collection of tricks.

If the Siamese twins ever learned to dance, they would do it like Moon and Morris, whose arm-in-arm performance is a wonderfully perfected bit.

Claire Rochester continues to please with both her voices, Kramer and Morton still get most of the laughs on the bill, and Consul and Betty, the trained chimpanzees, do unnaturally clever stunts.

—Tally's Broadway.

If a big factory fire waited for the newspaper reporters to come around and see the girls jump out of the window, and if criminals habitually locked up ladies they had just shot cruelly, but not fatally, with lady reporters, the newsgatherer's life would be just one wonderful round of excitement and "scoops." This happens in "The Daring of Diana," the photoplay of thrills in which Anita Stewart, the famous film star, is appearing at Tally's Broadway this week.

Miss Stewart plays her role with all the smartness and daring which are supposed to be inherent in the woman reporter, and her beauty is enhanced by the plain little tailor suit and sailor hat she wears.

—Symphony.

"A Child of Destiny" sounds like a very serious title. But, while that charming ingenue, Irene Fenwick, who is appearing on the screen at the Symphony, is that "child," she manages to win many a smile from her audiences with her elfish humor as a little girl, who, deserted in babyhood, grows up a little wild rose of the mountains.

Miss Fenwick, like Mary Pickford and Marguerite Clark, is in a class by herself as to comedy methods and personality. "A Child of Destiny" would be rank melodrama but for the little actress, and her characterization leads one to wish to see her in pure comedy of superior quality.

Mme. Ganna Walska, the noted Polish singer, appears in the picture in the role of the adventuress.

—Sammy's Busy Day.

Samuel Goldfish of the Lasky company arrived in the city yesterday and, what with not giving interviews and going into conference with Cecil de Mille, is a very busy man.

—New Face on Rialto.

J. H. Castleton a newcomer with the Morosco forces, will play an important part in "A Pair of Sixes," the famous fun show that is to follow "Outcast" at the Morosco Theater. Mary Servoss, Wyndham Standing, Douglas MacLean, Lola May, Gertrude Maitland and other favorites will appear in the play.

Mary Servoss,

Who is having her first real opportunity locally to show her ability as an emotional actress in "Outcast," now in its second week at the Morosco, and (above) Gladys Brockwell, starring with William Farnum in "The End of the Trail" on the screen at Miller's.

GENERAL REVIEWS.

—Pantages.

There is a trio, quartette, quintette and sextette among the acts at Pantages this week, but Harry Breen, that nut without a grain of sense, surpasses them all. Frown as you may at the utter idiocy and childishness of his humor at the beginning, before you realize it your diaphragm contracts, flutters and you are laughing helplessly with the rest of them. His impromptu song, his heart-to-heart talk, and his childhood rhymes are the most foolish and funniest things heard in 30-cent vaudeville for a long time.

It would be cruel here to say "from the sublime to the ridiculous," for the La Scala Sextette, with their splendid selections from the operas, follow Harry Breen. But in spite of the beauty of their numbers from "Faust," "Carmen" and "Lucia" (the sextette, of course!) one indelible impression remains, that of the little man at the end—is it Signor Pietro Rubens?—who gazes so soulfully at the spotlight man in the gallery.

The Three Dusty Rhodes conclude the bill with a revue, acrobatics, a clown band, and other performances, and for laughing purposes rank high. The show also opens with acrobatics; the Five Florimonds do many spectacular tricks on unsupported ladders, and prove themselves jugglers as well as equilibrists. The Venetian four dispense melody on violins and harp. "Who is Who" is a "roaring farce," telling of the mix-up when Paul Daubenspeck and wife meet Peter Daubenspeck and ditto. "The Fugitive Witness" is the title of the eleventh installment of the Billie Burke serial, "Gloria's Romance."

—Hippodrome.

A trip to the Hippodrome will well repay the vaudeville fan this week.

Les Kellors bring the boyhood days of "the circus in town," with their amusing ballyboo to open their clever offering of balancing stunts.

Julienne is an operatic tenor who sings the phonograph favorites gleaned from the grand-opera stage, in a pleasing manner.

Ortiz and Martinez have some genuine old Spanish dances in their repertoire, which they perform with traditional grace and abandon. An English chappy and a pretty girl, billed as Jennings and Dorman, amuse and entertain with songs and patter.

Snow-shoe dances are a distinct novelty, and Fred and Eva Mosart get theirs over very well, indeed.

Pretty gowns and glittering gems of repartee characterise the act of Chase and La Tour, their turn is one of the hits of the bill.

"College Girl Frolics" is a novel offering, being a whole vaudeville show within a vaudeville show. Comedy, beauty and sprightliness are the main characteristics of this pleasing number.

—Republic.

Post midnight activities at a well-known suburban amusement resort are cleverly travestied this week at the Republic in "Twenty Minutes at Vernon," a spectacular musical act in which a cast of twenty persons take part. The plot centers around a pretty Los Angeles girl, who has gone to the cafe to forget the reported death of her sweetheart, a militia officer, stationed on the Mexican border. This situation gives a chance to introduce "The Boys Down on the Border," a war song from the pen of H. Joe Isaacs, the popular local song writer, which was enthusiastically applauded yesterday. The act comes to an end with some sensational dancing by Santry and Norton, a clever dance team, who are introducing Gotham's latest craze, "Walking the Dog."

Six other clever vaudeville turns are on the new bill, as well as the first-run Blue Bird photoplay production, The Grasp of Greed," starring the beautiful actress Louise Lovely.

—Empress.

"Silks and Satins," starring clever and ingenuous little Marguerite Clark, is the feature attraction at the Empress Theater this week. This play, in which she has a dual role, affords her an excellent opportunity to display her dramatic ability and wonderful personality. It is a present day love episode based on a similar situation which occurred to one of the heroine's ancestors in the eighteenth century. By a dramatic situation the girl of the photoplay, portrayed by Miss Clark, discovers a document relating to a former complication which affords a description of a solution she herself uses, so as to bring about a clever and absorbing finale.

pend on their positions for a livelihood. They have served long terms in the schools here, and have never had adverse reports made against them. They are excellent educators and persons of worth personally. They have the backing of the pupils in their schools and their parents. I hope that the entire matter may be soon settled by their re-election."

—Judicial.

IS CONVICTED OF SLAPPING CHIEF.

REPORTER MAKES GREAT PROVOCATION DEFENSE.

Court Withholds Judgment and Asks that Antagonists Bury the Hatchet, but Neither Shows Disposition to Seek Peaceable Understanding.

Leo Owen, a newspaper man, was convicted in Police Judge White's court yesterday of having committed battery on the person of Chief Snively, August 1, during a session of the Police Commission. Mr. Owen admitted he slapped the Chief's face, but said he was provoked beyond endurance when the Chief called him an adjectived liar.

Attorney Griffith Jones, representing Mr. Owen, injected some sensational questions into the cross-examination of the Chief and Police Commissioner Owens, but although their purpose was accomplished, they were stricken from the court records.

After adjudging Mr. Owen technically guilty, Police Judge White commented on the case with a plea for amity between the two men.

"This affair is too trivial to be permitted to expand into a deep, hardened grudge or feud," he said. "Mr. Owen and Mr. Snively stand in court here only as two citizens. Mr. Owen unquestionably acted too hastily and too violently, and Mr. Snively made a grave error in tact in speaking to Mr. Owen as he did. If this antagonism is permitted to endure it will be a wrong against the community—a much greater wrong than this slight matter that has come before the court.

"I shall reserve judgment until Wednesday at 10 o'clock, and in the meantime I hope Mr. Snively and Mr. Owen will meet as men, shake hands, mutually regret their hastiness and declare their misunderstandings at an end."

The Chief and Mr. Owen stood near each other when the comment was made, but neither made overtures of peace.

Police Judge White strongly censured Mr. Owen for his conduct in the presence of the Police Commission in deliberative session. In a closing speech Attorney Griffith Jones defended his client's action, declaring the provocation was greater than any man could suffer without delivering the manual rebuke.

During the trial Chief Snively said he could not remember whether he called Mr. Owen "a ——— liar" or said that he had "written a ——— lie."

The witnesses for Chief Snively were City Prosecutor Williams, Police Commissioner Owens, Policeman Tom Graham, T. Califan, a spectator; W. R. Brannon, a spectator; Joe Newbaur, secretary of the Wholesale Liquor Dealers' Association; Henry Frazier, a reporter; Charles McKeag, secretary of the Police Commission, and Richard E. Tiernan, a spectator.

Assistant City Prosecutor Morton conducted the prosecution.

—WISCONSIN SOCIETY MEETING.

The members of the Wisconsin State Society at their monthly meeting and entertainment last night were invited to attend the meetings of three other State societies, thus securing a record number of invitations. The programme last night was followed by dancing and refreshments. Those who took part in the entertainment were Miss Florence J. Cooley, soprano; Miss Inez E. Bushnell, flutist, and M. Albert De Chaudron, violinist. "Wisconsin Ideals in California," was the subject of an address delivered by G. Gordon Whitnall. Dr. William Wenzlick, president, presided.

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.

(At Home:) The market was listless; in fact, transactions approached the low record of the last six years. Only 125,000 shares of stock changed hands. In the exchange market francs were easier, and bonds were equally listless with stocks. Total bond sales was $2,030,000. Large sales of copper had a tendency to harden the metals group.

(Abroad:) The London Board of Trade report for July shows that imports increased £1,048,604, while exports increased £11,661,546. The principal export increases were in cotton, wool and in steel and iron.

BIG PRICE FOR A TOE.

John Wendel, an employee of a Lancaster butcher, has been awarded by the Workmen's Compensation Board $7.50 a week for the loss of a toe, which had to be amputated because a hog he was helping to kill tramped upon and crushed it.

Doubtless Mr. Wendel would consent to part with the remaining nine toes at the same rate. Seventy-five dollars a week would make a man willing to limp.

WILL NOT SHIFT.

Our Pro-Rep-Dem morning contemporary, while supporting Mr. Hughes for the Presidency, does not give him that unqualified support which it accords to Gov. Johnson for the Senatorship. Our contem. favors Mr. Wilson's shipping bill, which Mr. Hughes opposes, and declares that it cannot, no, no it cannot, must not and will not "shift its convictions in accordance with political exigencies."

If Earl will not shift and Hughes will not shift, the situation will be deplorable indeed.

OUR NEUTRALITY.

The impartial attitude of the American government in holding the Deutschland to be a merchantman in despite of British protests has proved a "converter" more powerful than any revivalist who ever filled the anxious bench, for it has brought Dr. Von Jagow and his Staats Zeitung to a realisation of the fact that the United States, in protecting the Deutschland while in American waters, has done what Germany refused to do in the case of the Lusitania, the Arabic, the Sussex and other vessels which have been sunk by German submarines without visit and search.

REDUCED HIS FEATS.

A well-known San Francisco attorney was incautious enough to boast that he had killed three deer with snap shots, when somebody reminded him that the law limited the number to be killed to two. Then he remembered that it was only two. Then another friend asked him if he had caused the horns of the two he had shot to be mounted and fastened to the walls of his dining-room. He said, Oh, no; they were spike bucks who had not grown any horns. Then he was told that the last Legislature had classed spike bucks with fawns and allowed only deer with forked horns or larger to be shot. Then he remembered that he had not been hunting at all, but was busy in court all the week.

COST OF LIVING IN EUROPE.

According to recently-published comparison of prices issued by the British Board of Trade, food is now 61 per cent. dearer than in August, 1914. And in Germany they are faced with an increase of 116 per cent. up to the end of April. France is enduring an 80 per cent. rise in the cost of living. And none of the several governments holds out the slightest hope of an immediate decline. Vienna reports indicate that Austria is worse off than anyone, with an increase of 128 per cent. Even Australia, whose industries are chiefly mutton and wheat, is groaning under a 30 per cent. increase.

And it is only those families directly connected with munition supply or war contracts that can boast an increase in wages. One can imagine what a serious problem such a rise in prices must make to the income of between $10 and $15 a week, which is the general average in England for an immense percentage of the population. It means in round figures that it now takes $6.50 to buy food that would have cost $4 two years ago.

The cash wage question for the less-paid workpeople of Great Britain is therefore rapidly becoming a serious and irritating problem. Hints of simmering discontent are not wanting. Such daily wrestling with an inadequate exchequer are a fearsome test of patriotism in a long-drawn-out war. Kitchener's prediction that the war would last three years, which does not yet look much like being falsified, is a melancholy outlook. It is less dismal to be in the fighting line facing death and glory than to stay at home and face a rapidly-decreasing larder. Separation allowances of $6 to $7 a week make a poor showing under such circumstances.

The utterances of various ministers of the crown in Great Britain would indicate that the government fears and appreciates the rising discontent. With the recent sharp rise in the cost of potatoes the Board of Trade felt called upon to issue soothing reassurances. So far there have been no food riots in England, but the government is obviously taking every precaution to anticipate such an event.

THE BATTLE AT THE GOLDEN GATE.

Led by its Chamber of Commerce and affiliated organizations, San Francisco's independent manhood and womanhood have unfurled the banner of industrial freedom and declared open warfare on the San Francisco Union Labor Council and its villainies. For the first time in a decade the business community has replied to a series of strikes called by the labor unions with a declaration for the open shop.

In three strikes the issue has been fairly joined. The Employers' Association on the waterfront replied to the strike of the stevedores' and longshoremen's unions by indorsing the open-shop principle and putting it into effect. The shipowners and the lumber dealers ceased to bow to the dictum of the walking delegates. Independent workmen are no longer refused employment because they pay no tribute to the union bosses. This strike has been practically won.

Replying to the strike of the structural iron and steel workers the contractors and builders opened their shops to independent labor and announced that they would employ workmen in the future without regard to their union affiliations, that efficient service would be the only standard of employment.

The attempt of the union bosses to starve the forces of industrial freedom into submission through calling a strike of cooks, waiters and bakers has roused greater indignation than any of the others. In the windows of two hundred restaurants and cafes cards bearing the following inscription are prominently displayed: "This restaurant is conducted as an open shop without discrimination against union or non-union labor."

Volunteers have taken the places of the strikers, and the restaurants declaring for the open shop are reported to be crowded.

While these are only outpost actions leading to the real battle for industrial freedom that is certain to follow, the results thus far are highly gratifying to the friends of independent labor. They prove that even in San Francisco the thrall of the labor unions can be broken easily by vigorous, concerted action on the part of the friends of industrial freedom.

Never before has the resentment against the intolerable conditions imposed on San Francisco through labor-union thralldom been roused to so high a pitch. The spark that exploded in the midst of the great preparedness parade a bomb placed by union hands proved to be the spark that kindled the fires of an indignant populace. San Francisco has a law-and-order committee, just as in the days of the earthquake and fire and of the vigilantes. This committee has declared against the unions in every one of the recent strikes, and it has followed up this declaration by a demand upon the Mayor and the Chief of Police that the city shall assert the public ownership of its own streets by clearing them of the thugs and malefactors who commit arson, murder and sabotage at the behest of the walking delegates.

San Francisco has reached the parting of the ways in its industrial career; the issue has been joined, and the battle for industrial freedom will be lost or won. The time for temporizing has passed; the whole State was awakened by the bomb outrage, that spilled so much innocent blood, to a sense of the degradation into which the metropolis of the Golden Gate had sunk. To cling to the closed shop will be to close the gates of the city as well against the capital and the citizenship of the outside world. It has been fully demonstrated that neither life nor property are safe in San Francisco under closed-shop conditions.

Blows will be received as well as delivered before the battle for industrial freedom is finally won. Weaklings and demagogues hold high public places in the city government of San Francisco. The industrial despots are strengthened by a number of State commissions manned by members of the Labor Council who hold their appointments from the Governor of the State and form a part of his political machine. The 700 State employees on the waterfront are all members of unions affiliated with the Labor Council; there is not an independent workman among them. These are conditions which time and concerted political action can remedy. Independent workmen will not replace the strikers until they can be assured that they will be protected by an efficient, well-organized police force. Men will not take their families to San Francisco until there is some assurance that union thugs will no longer be permitted to make the streets a shambles. Capital will not be forthcoming for new shops and factories until it is demonstrated that property is secure from further union-labor outrages.

But the restoration of law and order and the protection alike of property and of independent labor will meet with a response from without that will open an era of prosperity which for San Francisco has already been too long delayed.

KANSAS KISSES.

The respectable, decorous length of a film kiss is seriously exercising the Kansas censor board, which consists of the Governor, the Attorney-General and the Secretary of State. One foot of film, we are told, represents half a second of time, and how easily things go wrong, a sigh too much or a kiss too long, and, afterwards, mist and a cloudy rain, and life is never the same again!

S. M. Brewster, the Attorney-General, feels that circumstances alter cases. He strongly favors a limit of fifty-seven feet for the "soul kiss," but the Governor's representative felt that twenty-seven feet was ample. The Secretary of State declined to commit himself.

But all were agreed that the first sweetheart kiss, the grab-it-and-run variety, should not exceed three feet. Second sweetheart kiss might possibly be decently elongated to fifteen feet, and the year-after-marriage kiss to twenty-five feet. After the silver wedding the censors feel that limitation is unnecessary.

The vampire kiss found the board adamant. Nix on the vampire kiss. Kansas declines to recognize such a thing.

But on kissing one's own baby there is no limit; likewise mothers-in-law, poor uncles, maiden aunts, may all be kissed with impunity. Rich uncles are entitled to twenty feet—only seven feet less than the soul kiss—which shows that Kansas is practical above all things.

One observes that the dog kiss and the pet-horse kiss have not yet been taken under consideration. For our part, we think nothing could be much more injurious to masculine peace of mind than the dog kiss. The only thing worse is the pet-monkey kiss which one of our local leading ladies insists upon bestowing upon her simian possession in the tantalising intervals when she is not "playing opposite" one of our handsome local actors. He says it is the most perturbing thing he has been up against in his career.

Until Kansas comes out strong for the abolition of the dog kiss, the simian kiss and the equine kiss we shall feel that she is not yet saved.

Longing Eyes.

HOW THE BLACKLIST ORIGINATED.

Economic preparedness is as much a necessity to the safety and welfare of our nation as military preparedness. When the greatest war that has ever desolated the world shall come to a close—as close it must some time or other, somehow or other—there will necessarily be great economic changes. In the case of the victory of the allied powers those changes will take one form; in the case of the victory of the central powers they will take another; in the event that the contest shall end with a draw they will take yet another. It may be predicted that each power will struggle to restore normal conditions, and that in such struggle neither the rights of those nations which have been enemies nor of those nations which have been neutrals will be respected.

No formal or informal statement has been made by the central powers as to their plans of economic adjustment when the war shall cease. The allies have been more candid. At a conference held in Paris attended by representatives from France, Belgium, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, Portugal, Russia and Serbia it was stated, as a reason for action, that Germany and Austria, after having imposed upon the allies a military struggle, were now preparing for a struggle in the economic domain which will not only survive the re-establishment of peace, but at that very moment will assume all its amplitude and all its intensity. The allies say that the agreement which is being prepared among their enemies has for its evident object the establishment of their domination over the production and the markets of the whole world, and to impose upon the other countries an inacceptable hegemony.

The allies declare that they consider it their duty to take measures to secure for themselves and the markets of neutral countries full economic independence, and to facilitate the organization on a permanent basis of an economic alliance. They declare that during the war—

A. The allies will prohibit their own subjects and citizens and all persons residing in their territories from carrying on any trade with the inhabitants of enemy countries of whatever nationality, or with enemy subjects, wherever resident, persons, firms, and companies whose business is controlled wholly or partially by enemy subjects or subject to enemy influence, whose names will be included in a special list.

B. The allies will also prohibit importation into their territories of all goods originating or coming from enemy countries.

C. The allies will further devise means of establishing a system of enabling contracts entered into with enemy subjects and injurious to national interests to be canceled unconditionally.

D. The allies will sequestrate all business undertakings operated by enemy subjects in allied territory. By export prohibitions they will restrict enemy supplies. They will require licenses to export to neutral countries goods which might from such countries be exported to enemy countries.

After the war shall cease and as transitory measures for the period of the commercial, industrial, agricultural and maritime reconstruction of the allied countries, the allies declare their common determination to insure the re-establishment of the countries suffering from acts of destruction, spoliation and unjust requisition, and they decide to join in devising means to secure the restoration to those countries as a prior claim of their raw materials—industrial, agricultural, plant and stock—and mercantile fleet, or to assist them to re-equip themselves in these respects.

And for permanent measures of mutual assistance and collaboration among the allies they decide to take the necessary steps, without delay, to render themselves independent of enemy countries in so far as regards raw materials and manufactured articles essential to the normal development of their economic activities.

These measures will be directed to assuring the independence of the allies, not only so far as concerns sources of supply, but also so far as regards their financial, commercial and maritime organization. The allies will adopt such measures as seem to them most suitable for the carrying out of this resolution according to the nature of the commodities and having regard to the principles which govern their economic policy.

Finally, the Paris conference adopted the following:

"Whereas for the purpose of their common defense against the enemy the allied powers have agreed to adopt a common economic policy on the lines laid down in the resolutions which have been passed, and whereas it is recognized that the effectiveness of this policy depends absolutely upon these resolutions being put into operation forthwith, the representatives of the allied governments undertake to recommend that their respective governments shall take, without delay, all the measures, whether temporary or permanent, requisite to giving full and complete effect to this policy forthwith and to communicate to each other the decisions arrived at to attain the object."

The British blacklist was the direct and immediate offspring of these resolutions, for it prohibited British subjects from trading with American persons, firms or companies whose business is controlled partially by Germans, or subject to German influence, and it published the names of those with whom trade was forbidden.

It may be expected that the published blacklist will be followed by other equally drastic and unfair orders of the British Council in restriction of trade with the United States.

And what are we going to do about it? What can we do about it except to meet the military preparedness of Europe with military preparedness in America and industrial preparedness in Europe with industrial preparedness in the United States. Thus far the war in Europe has been an industrial gain to us. We should have wisdom and wit enough to see to it that the cessation of the war in Europe shall not prove an industrial disaster to us.

If we are to meet some of the international combinations which are likely to occur, if we are to be able to meet some of the tariffs which are likely to be imposed, we must remember that the great weapon in our hands is the fact that we have the largest and best market in the world both for import and for export, and that if we keep that weapon sharp and bright, if we hold it with a strong hand, the nations of the world will think twice before they throw that market away.

The step that is essential for our industrial preparedness is the prompt and complete restoration of the Republican policy of protection, and that can only be effected by the election of Mr. Hughes and a Republican majority in both houses of Congress.

THE WOMAN IN JAIL.

BY JENNIE VAN ALLEN.

To a woman in jail the days are long and the nights are terrible, but the hours that hang heaviest are from supper time to bed time.

In the morning the women in the County Jail have regular housekeeping duties—beds to make, cells to clean and the living-room, receiving-room, matron's quarters and hospital to put in spotless order. All the food is supplied from the general kitchen, and three times a day all the prisoners gather about the dining table in their own quarters. Meal time breaks the awful monotony of the day, and at night sleep is merciful, for it brings forgetfulness.

When a prisoner has passed through the stupefying preliminaries that sentence her to the County Jail; when the heavy barred iron door of the woman's department is opened and she has been officially delivered into the tender hands of the matron; when she has been searched and comforted; when she stumbles up the few steps into the living-room and faces the women who are to be her cellmates; when she looks into the cells, white and clean as hands can make them; when she sees the pitiful efforts to make each one cheery and homelike; when she looks at the grated windows and fully realizes that she cannot come and go as she pleases, that she is subject to unknown rules and regulations that she cannot evade, it breaks the most stubborn spirit.

But the coming of a new prisoner is like a breath of salt air to those in jail. To hear something of the happenings of the world. To get a glimpse of Broadway and to catch an echo of the lawless life in the land of the "Red Light." It is not given to protected women to imagine the indecency of thought and word and act among the women prisoners of jails and penitentiaries. When women of all races, ages and degrees of decency live in congested quarters there is no law that can control the interchange of experience. And the tremendous problem of directing thought and speech of the criminal class is one of the nerve and brain-racking demands upon a matron. Insubordination can be instantly controlled by officers of the jail who come on the run at the ringing of a bell. But force is not the governing power, and manhandling is tabooed. Besides, insurrection is not the great issue. The baffling problem is to keep the atmosphere clean and wholesome and to prevent prisoners from contaminating each other by the rehearsal of their hideous experiences and the elimination of suggestive stories. To change words and thoughts into sane and normal channels is a more difficult task than the engineering feat of making water run up hill.

Every night from 6 to 9 o'clock the women suffer the pangs of homesickness. There are women whose hearts hunger for their husbands and babies. There are girls who long for the lonely rooms where they lived—girls who remember that fathers and mothers are thinking of them with breaking hearts. There are women to whom the Golden Way is beckoning; music is calling them to the dance, to the play and to the moving pictures. Their eyes ache for the lights on Broadway. They crave food and drink and cigarettes. Perhaps they want the prick of the needle and the smoke of the pipe. Their senses are aflame for joy rides, the lure of the beach and the roadhouse. They are crazed with desire and yet they sit night after night, week in and week out—waiting—waiting—waiting until time is measured into months and even a year—waiting for trial—waiting for the expiration of their sentence—waiting to be taken to the reform school or the penitentiary. Always waiting — waiting — waiting, and their souls uttering cries so impassioned that they almost split the iron bars and demolish the gray stone walls of the County Jail!

And what do women do during the longest three hours of the day?

Cards are the chief diversion of the average prisoner. Hour in and hour out they shuffle and cut and deal in games that demand the closest concentration. There are women doing embroidery as wonderful as that of a nun, and women who are reading and sewing and mending. Girls are fashioning stunning riding habits of flags from cigarette favors that will make them a flash of rainbow when they ride the Rodeo. Sociological thinkers are discussing the crimes of people against themselves, society and the government. And there are girls and women with tear-wet faces counting their beads and reading the Holy Book.

And over the undisciplined, the unregenerate and the unreformed, over the sinful, the sorrowing and unrepentant, stands the matron, as steady as a wheelman when the ship is in the trough of the sea. Whether her official family is large or small; whether everyone is a "trusty" or the day's grist from the court she must maintain her poise.

Every moment she deals with something more explosive than dynamite. She must hold them steady by her inflexible will. She must be strong and sweet and noble in spirit. She must govern by absolute justice.

A matron owes it to these hapless ones to get away from the crime-infected atmosphere. Every day she should fill her lungs with fresh, sweet air and she should lie in the sunshine and walk in the wind. She should get into touch with the vital elements of life until she is galvanized with new thoughts and new ideas. Otherwise she is literally entombed with her charges and both suffer from contact with each other. She inevitably becomes a shallow stream in whose waters there is no healing. She should be like a tidal wave and the inrush of her mental and spiritual powers should sweep over every soul until it sickens of sin and there remains but one goal in life—the mountaintop where the glory of the sun and the moon and the stars shines forth and the beauty of the rainbow stretches from the cradle to the new life that is the heritage of every woman who enters the County Jail.

DEMOCRATIC FINANCIAL MISMANAGEMENT.

Senator Gallinger clearly shows the difference between Republican management of our national finances and Democratic mismanagement of the same, in this way:

The Republicans made it a practice to put into the Treasury each month $2,000,000 more than they took out, while the Democratic practice is to take out each month $2,000,000 more than they put in—equaling the difference of $4,000,000 a month in favor of Republican management as against Democratic mismanagement.

These figures have been determined by a study of the official reports of the Secretary of the Treasury for the period beginning with August, 1897, when the Dingley tariff law went into effect, down to the first day of 1915-16 fiscal year. During that time Republican revenue laws (the Dingley bill and the Payne bill) were in operation for 194 months, and a Democratic revenue law (the Underwood bill) was in operation for twenty-seven months.

The total ordinary receipts of the Treasury during the period of Republican management of the nation's finances reached the colossal sum of $9,677,952,080—an average of $49,886,351 per month, for 194 months.

During the same time the total ordinary disbursements of the government, authorized by Republican legislation, amounted to $9,293,083,392—an average of $47,902,492 per month for 194 months.

The average monthly surplus under Republican control, therefore, was $1,983,859 for 194 months.

During the twenty-seven months while Democratic legislation has controlled the revenue and expenditure the total Treasury receipts have been $1,579,648,049—a monthly average of $58,505,483.

In the same time Democratic Congressmen have voted away $1,621,908,077—a monthly average of $60,070,670.

Accordingly, the average monthly deficit under Democratic control has been $1,565,187.

Moreover, the Republican revenue laws which produced these results were so drawn that $22,967,653 per month was customs receipts, and was paid by foreigners, while $22,534,842 per month came from internal-revenue receipts and was paid by our own people. Under the Democratic system only $19,023,760 per month was taken from foreigners at the customhouse, while the enormous sum of $34,116,302 per month was wrung from our own people by vexatious and oppressive taxes upon incomes, vocations, enterprise and thrift. Those American citizens who have recently been wrestling with the clumsy and confusing income-tax blanks, or who have been constantly licking stamps for telegraph messages, promissory notes, and for other necessary business transactions, will be interested to know that under Democratic legislation our own people contribute $1.79 to the National Treasury for every dollar that the foreigner pays, whereas, under Republican revenue laws, the foreigner paid $1.02 as against each dollar contributed by American citizens. And yet there are those who think the tariff is not an issue in the present Presidential campaign.

It is the difference between the careful and the careless manager, between thrift and extravagance, between solvency and bankruptcy. And yet, says the protectionist, we are asked to continue in office for another four years this wasteful, extravagant, incompetent administration, a President without experience and a group of advisers woefully lacking in the qualifications needed in men to whom is entrusted the affairs of the greatest corporation in the world—the United States.

The Man Without a Job.

[Dwight T. Farnum, in Engineering Magazine:] One of the most able managers I know calls himself the man without a job. He is the most quiet and unassuming person about the place. He will tell you that about a dozen committees run the business. Some meet once a week, some oftener. Undoubtedly he speaks the truth. He doesn't say anything about who trained the men who make up these committees, but you only have to watch him a few minutes with one of his executives, noting the utter frankness and trust with which he is approached and the fine, straightforward suggestions, to know who is responsible for that company's efficiency and to realize that he put over the biggest deal in the history of that company when he threw his vanity overboard. He is getting 100 per cent. results out of every man in his force, and I don't need to tell you that stock in that company is worth a price which would make a "war baby" blush with shame.

Potatoes for Fat People.

[World's Work:] Perhaps every fat person who wishes to lose weight has heard of Vance Thompson's well-known maxim: "To the scientist there is nothing so tragic on earth as the sight of a fat man eating a potato." Dr. Graham Luck of Cornell Medical College, an authority on food values, smiled when Mr. Thompson's epigram was quoted to him, but he failed to see the "tragedy" mentioned. Potatoes, the doctor observed, are useful on account of the salts they contain, in dissolving and eliminating uric acid from the system, and to cut them from the menu is an absurd fad. To strike out all the dishes which include starches and sugars, oils and fats, is, he said, equally absurd; the value of these foods is that of fuel; "they are oxidized in the body and keep the body warm, and when the work is accomplished they furnish the energy with which to perform it." The common-sense plan in weight-reducing is to cut down on all foods that contain oils, fats, starches and sugars, but not to eliminate them entirely.

If the present administration is to be censured for its astounding unpreparedness to equip and provision our military forces for service it is because it has had three years' warning in Mexico and two in Europe that it was necessary. Democrats should not complain of fair criticism on this subject.

RIFLE EXPERTS ARE WORRIED.

SCORE IN NATIONAD SHOOT IS EXCEPTIONAD.

Los Angeles Rifle and Revolver Club Turns in Higher Score for Club Championship of United States than Last Year—Several Feel Shaky.

BY E. C. CROSSMAN.

A strange pair of friends in the form of a pure white goat and a pure black mule stood just out of the line of fire at the range of the Los Angeles Rifle and Revolver Club Sunday during the shooting for the championship of the United States in the National Interclub military match. There may be nothing unlucky in either a white goat or a black mule, but you can't make the six low men on that rifle team believe that the combination is not more potent for evil than two acres of broken mirrors or a mile of black cats.

The Los Angeles Rifle and Revolver Club may have won the championship of these United States—or rather retained their grip on it obtained in 1915—but said club does not deserve it. Also it is doubtful if the team total of 2321 is better than second place. An Arizona club turns in via wire a wild and weird total beyond the possibilities of mortal man, in the form of a total 2430 for ten men out of 2500, received with jeers and derision by the locals. Outside of this yarn, it is doubtful if the local club can get first by any such sorry showing as that of Sunday.

HISTORY.

The National Interclub military match is an annual affair, staged by the National Rifle Association branch of the War Department for the 1100 clubs on its list, which have by the gracious kindness of munificent government, been able to buy, at cost the arms and ammunition of the regular army and militia, and so shoot at their own expense over the government course. Letting men pay their own expenses and board at a government training camp is another example of said gracious kindness.

Anyhow, in 1915, the pick of the clubs to the number of twenty-five, entered the shoot, and the Los Angeles Rifle and Revolver Club won the championship by the score of 2294, 229.4 points per man out of the 250 possible over the course of 200 and 300-timed fire, and 300, 500 and 600 yards slow fire, as used in the militia and civilian clubs. The qualifying score is 210 for expert.

Sunday the picked twelve men of the club, allowed by this year's conditions, smeared themselves out on the soil of the Glendale range and prepared to put on official record before Col. T. F. Cooke and H. L. Suydam, some of the fine work done in practice the weeks before, in the attempt selfishly to hang on to the before-mentioned championship. Alas, and alas!

IN THE PIT.

Down in the pit Brother Suydam, an old and experienced shot of New York State rifle teams, and one of the New York team sent to England in the days of some time ago, cruelly had the markers put red "four" disc after four disc on the targets in place of the white and handsome signals telling of hits in the bullseye. Fours—for the benefit of the layman—lie in the ring next to the bullseye, and fours win no national shoots.

At 200 slow fire, a Fraser person distinguished himself after making 238 last Sunday, putting on as much as forty, whereas forty-five is the low limit of respectability. March put on forty-one, and Walter Hansen another forty-one, three of the strongest slow-fire shots in the club down twenty-eight points instead of about thirteen. They were awarded three rousing jeers and the team marched on the 500-yard range, where things improved a little.

At 600 the before-mentioned Fraser put on another forty ex fifty, and Fraser is a man, old and Conqueror of a Sutton.

Mrs. Widdowson.

NEW TENNIS CHAMPION IS AN AGGRESSIVE PLAYER.

Interesting Analysis of the Style of the Little English Woman Who Took the Title Out of the Sutton Family. Weak on Overhead Strokes, but Wins on Accurate Hand Drives.

BY W. M. HENRY.

IT TAKES two or three days and an imagination like an El Paso war correspondent to appreciate that the Suttons' most cherished family heirloom, the Southern California tennis championship in women's singles, has been taken away from them.

Old-timers, such as Simpson Sinsabaugh, who has seen twenty-two successive women's champions crowned, are still almost dazed at the thought. And to the women players it seems far more impossible than to the men.

Mrs. Gladys Widdowson, the peppery party who so unceremoniously upset tradition by defeating Miss Florence Sutton last Saturday, did the best thing for women's tennis in Southern California that has happened since May Sutton first won national recognition.

She has shown that a Sutton can be beaten and will thus encourage the hitherto timid women players to go thou and do likewise. But more than that, Mrs. Widdowson, by demonstrating that an offensive game is a winning game, will speed up the rather dreary "safety first" methods which hitherto have been practiced by the local women players.

Mrs. Widdowson reminds me of Ty Cobb, Ad Wolgast and the All-Black Rugby team. Each of these operated upon the principle that the best defense is a good offense and each, by carrying the battle to his or her opponent, became a champion.

Mrs. Widdowson beat Miss Sutton by forever keeping the initiative. She was always attacking. Try as she would, Miss Sutton could only once force her conqueror to drop the attack and play safe. That was when Mrs. Widdowson had Miss Sutton 5-3 in the second set. She tried to play safe and Miss Sutton took four straight games and the set.

The strokes, or rather the stroke, of the new champion is quite as distinctive as her theory of play. Mrs. Widdowson, who is very short, uses the English sidewheel drive which is really half drive and half chop.

There is practically no distinction between Mrs. Widdowson's service, forehand, backhand or volley strokes. Even her nearest approach to an overhead is the same, a terrific sideswipe with the racket choked and carrying the whole weight of her body.

Mrs. Widdowson is deadly accurate on both forehand and backhand. She never simply tries to get the ball back. Every stroke is batted for the sidelines and nine out of every ten hit the mark. Even when forced to make a hard run for a ball, she returns it in such a manner as to put her opponent out of position.

Mrs. Widdowson has an excellent eye and covers court with a lot of speed and splendid judgment. She is seldom caught out of position and takes the net only when she has her opponent so hopelessly on the run that she is certain to ace the return.

The new champion's game is essentially a back court game. Her lack of height and choked-up method of holding her racket in addition to her weakness overhead make it almost impossible for her to take the net except occasionally.

Both Mrs. Widdowson's matches in the Long Beach tourney brought out the fact that she can be beaten. But the new champion is not likely to be beaten by steadiness alone. It will take a player of the forcing type to beat her.

In her semi-final match with Mrs. Henry, Mrs. Widdowson lost three games in the second set through her opponent's ability to outdrive her and only Mrs. Henry's inaccuracy kept her from winning more games than she did.

In the final match Miss Sutton won games by forcing Mrs. Widdowson completely off the court with a high-bounding ball, which the champion's lack of overhead forced her to take up against the backstop, and then cutting her return down close to the net with a neatly executed chop.

A hard hitting, net playing woman of the Mary Browne type can beat Mrs. Widdowson and if Mrs. Widdowson's winning the championship can bring out a few more Mary Brownes Southern California women's tennis will continue to lead the world.

RACES POSTPONED.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 7.—The Grand Circuit races which were to have been started here this afternoon have been deferred one day. Torrential rains an hour before the first race was set caused a track too heavy to work on, and kept spectators away. The races on today's programme will be run tomorrow.

Coming to the Front.

PLANS ACCEPTED FOR BRENTWOOD CLUBHOUSE.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

THE little Brentwood Country Club at Brentwood Park is blossoming to some purpose. Plans for its new clubhouse have been accepted and it is certainly going to be an adornment to the landscape down there. The architects are Frank T. Kegley and H. Scott Garity, and they have evolved an early Dutch colonial type of building, replete with that elegant simplicity that bespeaks social security and aristocratic taste.

INADEQUATE.

It has been obvious almost since the club opened less than a year ago that that temporary clubhouse was wholly inadequate for the rapidly increasing membership. In designing the new clubhouse, all brains have concentrated on comfort and convenience for the interior arrangements. A frame construction built round a patio, two wings connected by an open-air corridor, containing the offices, smoking-room, restrooms for women, etc., large roomy porches, a big sunny lounge-room, a sun parlor, two dining porches, two living porches, card-rooms, ample locker space, guest-rooms, servants' quarters, and all the other advantages of a first-class clubhouse will be theirs.

As for golf and tennis, they have been playing over a thoroughly sporty nine-hole course for months, and five holes of the other nine are now completed with promise of the full eighteen holes by the fall. Most of the crack players have played there and pronounced it good. The tennis courts are at present loaned by Tom Bundy, but now tennis courts of their very own are being planned and will soon be on the way, for the membership includes most of the California tennis stars who have a very decided idea of what tennis courts should be. Tom Bundy is president, for instance, and Mrs. Bundy, Florence Sutton, Mary and Nat Browne, Mrs. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Bruce, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Redmayne are some of the stylish tennis members.

Norman Macbeth, of golf championship fame, is a member, and Tom McCall is first vice-president. L. P. Wood is second vice-president, Dr. C. P. Thomas, treasurer, and Walter Calvert Fertig, the secretary.

Among the 300 members are Judge and Mrs. Lewis Works, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Janss, Mr. and Mrs. Lee A. Phillips, Force Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Jack, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Flower, Mayor and Mrs. Dudley, W. H. Cline, Mr. and Mrs. Ogden, Mr. and Mrs. Burdick and Mr. and Mrs. Rolin B. Lane.

The contract for the clubhouse has been let and work will commence at once.

Miss Olga Dorfner, the national 100-yard swimming champion and record holder for the distance, started to swim when 12 years of age.

Everybody Defaulting.

CHICAGO FEELS SICK OVER TENNIS TOURNEY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LAKE FOREST (Ill.) Aug. 7.—Eighteen defaults in the first round and fifteen in the second round marred the second day of play in the western lawn tennis championship tournament today. out-of-town players failing to appear or being unable to leave matches in other cities.

As a result of this wholesale defaulting only seven players residing outside of Chicago remain in play for the men's single title.

Maurice McLaughlin and his protege, Kenneth of Los Angeles, who will arrive here Wednesday for the first, second and third round matches; Clifford Lockhorn, Kansas City; Selforde Stellwagen, Minneapolis; Ward Dawson, San Francisco; George Northrup, Minneapolis, and H. L. Beyer, Grinnell, Iowa, remain in the tourney.

TRUCK JUMPS BRIDGE WITHOUT SPILLING WINE.

POMONA, Aug. 7.—A. L. Lord of Los Angeles sat at the wheel of a seventy-horse-power Doane truck this noon while it ran off the concrete approach of a bridge over the wash on East Holt avenue and dropped a distance of twelve feet into the soft sand with a load of 2600 gallons of wine on it.

The driver was unscathed and the only thing about the truck that was broken was the crank, which was snapped off when the radiator was jammed into the sand to a depth of two feet. Not a drop of the wine was slopped.

Lord was on his way to Los Angeles with fifty barrels of wine on a truck and trailer. Going at ten miles an hour, he says, the steering-gear knuckle broke just as he reached the bridge and that the trailer, bumping into the rear of the machine when he applied the brake, caused the wheels to swerve out of the road and jump the bridge. The weight of the loaded trailer kept the truck from somersaulting into the wash and crushing the driver.

BANNER CATCH OF ALBICORE.

LONG BEACH, Aug. 7.—With a catch totalling 1100 pounds, the banner catch of albicore for the season in charter party ranks, was brought in today by the launch Tillicum, when fifty-eight of the big game fish were landed at the end of the Municipal Pier.

Chartered by G. R. Powell, local banker, with a party of seven the Tillicum reported the channel alive with the big albicore, and that they were biting well. This will be hailed as good news by the canneries, which have been starving for the sea chicken to can.

Mr. Powell's party consisted of J. T. Davis, A. B. Shuck, Ruffe Schuck, H. Sheard, Edward and Wayne Volk, and Jake Shrode.

TOURNAMENT TO BE LATE

Coast Championships in the Month of September.

Alma Whitaker's Clever Chat of Del Monte.

Local Golfers Excited About Dog Days' Tourney.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

The date for the Coast golf championship at Del Monte has been set for September 23, three weeks later than usual, to give players ample time to recover from the western amateur event.

The conditions will be similar to last year—a thirty-six-hole qualifying round on Saturday, the 23rd. Thirty-two to qualify for the championship flight, thirty-two to qualify for the Del Monte cup flight, and after that as many flights of sixteen as there are players. After the championship flight all play will be on handicap.

E. S. Armstrong of the Midwick Country Club holds the title, having defeated Heiny Schmidt in the sensational finals last year.

An unusually large contingent will go up from the south, a mere partial list including Armstrong, Harold B. Lamb, Laurence Cowing, Norman Macbeth, Jack Jevne, Artie Shafter, Judge Frederickson, Arthur Bumiller, R. H. Bagby, Everett Seaver, Conde Jones, Dutty Edwards, L. T. Bradford, I. W. Sibley, Robert Farquhar, Dudley Fulton, Guy Cochrane, F. H. Gilcrest, S. S. Parsons, H. L. Billson, A. T. Jerxens, Alexander Macdonald, Robin Shelley, Harry Pattee, J. M. Walker, A. C. Twist, C. G. Twist, Ham Cotton, Nelson Barker and, of course, Edward B. Tufts. Raymond Hornby, Jack Niven and Arthur Braly are already on the ground and will remain for the tournament. Many wives will accompany their spouses and take part in the women's tournament.

A star figure at the tournament will be Douglas Grant, who is rated one of the premier golfers of the country, recently returned from Europe, where he was runner-up in the Irish championship last year. He was runner-up against Heiny Schmidt last month in the western amateur event.

Jack Neville, who is chairman of the greens committee, will, of course, compete. He promises to have the greens restored to the same excellent condition that they were in last year. For the benefit of the many eastern players expected at the recent western event, Neville tried to keep the greens in softer condition, but California turf does not lend itself to the treatment it received, and the attempt was something of a failure, a fact which was discovered too late to alter. For the coming tournament we are assured they will be restored to the firm and true condition which aroused such unqualified enthusiasm last September.

The fact that the later date will probably insure cooler weather is also making the event highly popular. Northern players are entering with the same enthusiasm that is obvious from this end of the State.

THE DOG-DAYS TOURNAMENT.

In the meantime the dog-days tournament at the Los Angeles Country Club next Saturday is responsible for some intense emotions. It is for players with handicaps between 14 and 24—and that includes some highly prominent citizens, who covet the twelve prizes donated with unashamed urgency. Two of the prizes are offered under sealed conditions—and mystery is enchanting. And two prizes are offered for the superlative fooklers. One can hear earnest citizen princes wrangling excitedly over their chances of obtaining a booby prize. Last year the two booby prizes were won by Godfrey Holterhoff and O. M. Souden, with 128 and 141, respectively. (Yes, eighteen holes, of course—don't be silly.) But they still fear that glory was only theirs because Judge A. W. McKinley disqualified himself by not finishing before dark, notwithstanding it is rumored he started at sunrise. Well, we remember the tortuous anxiety of the two winners awaiting the arrival of the Judge. Nothing would induce them to leave the scoreboard and go home to bed without knowing their fate.

The prizes have all been donated by the competitors, some of the generous ones being George I. Cochrane, W. T. Gould, A. B. Barrett, Norman Church, Ham Cotton, J. H. Miles and C. F. Noyes. No championship event ever created more intense excitement or more fierce competition.

Browns in Sixth Place by Beating Senators.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—New York made it three out of four from Chicago here today, winning the last game of the series, 3 to 2. In the fifth inning, with Giant runners on second and third bases, Lavender purposely passed Rariden, filling the bases. McGraw sent in Lobert to bat for Schupp, and he cleared the bases with a double. A feature of the series just finished is that New York made only thirteen hits in the four games and won three games, in each of which it made only three hits. The score:

MARKET NEAR RECORD FOR TRADE DULLNESS.

Transactions for Five Hours Total Only One Hundred and Twenty-three Thousand Shares—Large Sales of Copper Have Hardening Effect on the Metal Group. Bonds Equally Listless—Francs Easier.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—The dullness of today's market exceeded any full session of the year and approached the low record of the last half-dozen years. Transactions for the five hours amounted to only 123,000 shares. Numerous prominent stocks failed to appear, issues such as International Power, common and preferred, among the most active features with gains of 1 to 2 points. The other feature of note was the rise of Gas, with an extreme gain of 6¾.

The large sales of copper reported at or near 30½ cents per pound had a hardening effect on the group.

Prices were completely unresponsive to the further gains shown in copper tonnage and shortage of supply for copper-moving purposes.

The market for foreign exchange ruled at last week's final quotations, except francs, which were easier.

The bond market was equally listless. Stocks, prices of some speculative house showing slight concessions. Internationals, particularly French, were under moderate pressure. Total sales of bonds, par value, $2,050,000.

United States bonds were unchanged.

Business Page: Citrus Fruits, Butter and Eggs—Current Trade—Local Produce Market

COMMERCIAL.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

According to the monthly market letter of P. E. Harris & Co. the bean situation has been a peculiar one. The market at present is stagnant, says Harris & Co., with holders demanding prices for their stocks which no one will give them. About a month ago there was a good shipping demand to eastern and southern points, but this has come to a sudden end. The government, which started the excitement in the bean market when war threatened with Mexico, has also stopped buying, and it is reported that large stocks have been stored in San Francisco that have not been needed on the border. The Mexican situation was at the bottom of the advance in beans, and as the bottom has fallen out of the war scare, just so the bottom has fallen out of the bean market. Large and small whites which were selling during the war scare for $12 a hundred, are offered today at $8 with no buyers. Pinks, which were up to $9, are today offered at prices around $7 a hundred. Limas, beans which were up to $6.75, offers under that figure being refused, are today dragging at approximately a cent a pound under that price with no buyers in sight. When pink beans were held at high prices, importers cabled the Orient and Manchurian beans have been arriving in San Francisco on every steamer, especially Red Manchurians, which take the place of pinks. Lower California is now harvesting its pink bean crop and every steamer from Ensenada brings large quantities of this variety. According to report there are 4500 acres of pinks and 1500 acres of white beans planted in Lower California, all of which come on the market six weeks earlier than the California crop. In the opinion of P. E. Harris & Co. we are regarded as authorities in the local bean market, prices for all varieties of dried beans which advanced so greatly during the war scare, will ease off from week to week until the new crop arrives, which will be harvested in less than two months.

Jonathan apples are now in the market at $1.75 a box. Bartlett pears were easier yesterday at $1.60 to $1.75 a box and French prunes are again in the market at $1.35 a lug.

Eggs advanced to 36 cents a dozen on the Produce Exchange yesterday morning but butter was inactive. Receipts were 25,000 cases of eggs, 35,500 pounds of butter, 5700 pounds of cheese, 3720 sacks of potatoes, 4 sacks of beans, 9 sacks of sweet potatoes, 852 boxes of apples, 3768 boxes of pears and 2134 boxes of peaches.

WATER DIRECTORS ASKED TO RESIGN.

IMPERIAL COUNTY BANKERS TAKE ACTION.

Five Officials of Mutual Company Have not Complied with Request—Supervisors to Appoint New Men if Incumbents Step Out—Water Shortage Relieved.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

EL CENTRO, Aug. 7.—Resolutions were adopted today by the Imperial County Bankers' Association and a conference of directors of Imperial Mutual Water Companies demanding the resignations of the five members of the Imperial Irrigation District board of directors.

The resolutions declare that the resignations are sought in the interest of harmony. At a late hour tonight none of the directors had resigned.

The action of the bankers and the water-company directors is the result of agitation that has been made because of a temporary water shortage due to the silting up of the Alamo channel, which supplies the Imperial Valley with water from the Colorado River.

Walter O. Hamilton, president; C. W. Breckman, Porter N. Ferguson, John D. Bennett and J. Arthur McBride are the directors who are asked to vacate their offices. Failure among the directors to agree on courses of procedure for the improvement of the irrigation system since taking over the properties of the California Development Company is pointed to as a reasonable excuse for the officials to make room for five others to be appointed by the Board of Supervisors.

It is asserted a petition is in circulation asking for a special election to vote on the question of recalling President Hamilton for alleged extravagance in handling the affairs of the irrigation district, although the petition has not yet been filed.

President Hamilton was successful in opposing an attempt last December to recall him for similar alleged reasons.

In the resolutions adopted today by the Bankers' Association, the irrigation district directors are asked to file their resignations with the County Clerk, to go into effect only in case of the acceptance of all of them by the Supervisors and the appointment of five new directors. In their resolution the bankers indicate that they are willing to select two of the new directors, giving the Mutual Water Companies the privilege of naming three.

Practically the entire population of Imperial Valley tonight was stirred deeply by the turn taken by the irrigation district affairs, and the next step is being awaited with much interest.

Through the raising of the Colorado River level by the construction of a pile and rock weir at Hanlon heading, the Alamo channel tonight was carrying 3300 second feet of water, as against 2100 second feet a week ago. The new canal from Volcano Lake is now carrying from 400 to 700 second feet, and will run up to 800 tomorrow, relieving the Alamo just that much.

ANOTHER DEAD AT LONG BEACH.

Woman Drops Dead in Surf of Heart Trouble.

Octogenarian Robbed of Last Price of a Meal.

Republican Candidate Hughes Invited to Beach.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, Aug. 7.—Under circumstances similar to those surrounding the death in the surf yesterday of Miss Mary Flynn of Fresno, Mrs. Alice Watkins, 53 years old, of Deming, N. M., lost her life early this morning in the ocean when she was overcome by an attack of heart trouble while bathing opposite Hotel Virginia. The victim only entered the water above her waist.

Leaving the residence of Mrs. Roy Walker and J. L. Watkins, her son and daughter, of No. 539 Daisy avenue, early this morning, Mrs. Watkins was apparently enjoying the cold ducking when suddenly a big breaker came in and swept over her chest.

The chill brought on by the cold air and cold water at that hour of the morning was presumably more than her weak heart could stand, and she threw up her hands and fell into the sea, dead.

The body was carried to shore by other bathers and physicians summoned, who pronounced her sudden death the result of heart trouble. Coroner Hartwell signed the death certificate to that effect this afternoon. Mrs. Watkins was a widow and the mother of ten children, all but two of whom are alive. The body will be shipped to Deming, where Mrs. Watkins made her home for several years.

ROBS AN OLD MAN.

The "meanest crook" invaded Long Beach from Los Angeles this afternoon. Edward J. Burns, 50 years old, has been sleeping in a cheap North Main-street roominghouse in Los Angeles for a month and living on one meal a day to keep his funds, which until yesterday amounted to $3.50, from dwindling clear away until he secured employment.

This afternoon he was walking along Main street when he met a confidence man who finally wormed out of him the fact that his worldly goods consisted of $3.50 cash. The affable stranger said that he would give Mr. Burns a good job in his restaurant at Long Beach but, like all employment agents, he would be compelled to charge Mr. Burns the small fee of $3.

Anxious to secure employment and believing in his new acquaintance, Mr. Burns paid his $3 to the alleged restaurant proprietor and then parted with his last 50 cents to the Pacific Electric Railroad to transport him to this city.

Arriving here, the two men stopped in front of an Ocean-avenue lunch counter. The bunco artist went inside, cautioning the old man to remain outside until he returned. After waiting patiently for four hours, Mr. Burns finally decided he had been victimized and reported the incident to the local police.

INVITATION TO HUGHES.

In hopes that Presidential Candidate Hughes can be induced to take a side trip to this city during his two-days' stay in Los Angeles, officials of the Long Beach Hughes-Fairbanks Republican Club today sent a telegram to Campaign Manager Wilcox at Chicago, setting forth the wishes of the stanch G.O.P. followers in Long Beach.

Private telegrams from prominent local business men and from civic and boost organizations followed the original request from the organized Republicans for a visit from Mr. Hughes.

POMONA VALLEY CLAIMS A NINTH.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, Aug. 7.—While Los Angeles county is credited with producing 81 per cent. of all the lemons grown within the State, the Pomona Valley claims that it has produced at least one-ninth of this year's crop, which will pour $768,000 into the pockets of the growers.

One thousand cars of lemons have been grown this year in the little area between San Dimas and the eastern border of the county. Those 1000 cars amount to 384,000 boxes, and the probability is that the growers will net at least $2 a box on their lemons straight through the season, because they have been bringing from $2.75 to $3 per box in recent weeks.

It is estimated that the State has produced about 9000 cars of lemons this year. Eight thousand cars in 1910 brought the California lemon growers $2,765,000. If the Pomona Valley gets $768,000 for 1000 cars this year and the balance of the growers do as well the lemon crop of 1915-16 is worth $6,912,000 to the growers in California.

SEAL BEACH, Aug. 6.—Aviator Frank Bosquel, protege of Art Smith, has been signed by the Jewel City Amusement Company of Seal Beach, to give a two weeks' programme of exhibition flights here. Among the events included in Bosquel's contract are spiral loops and drops, figure-eight slides and upsidedown flying. He will also give illumined night flights when the colored scintillators will be played upon his aeronautical maneuvers.

FIREMEN FACE BOMBARDMENT.

Company Captain Wounded as Gasoline Explodes.

Books Saved from Blaze are Lost in the Shuffle.

Mother Rescues a Baby from Bungalow Court Fire.

Bursting gasoline bombs threatened forty firemen and seriously injured Capt. Eli Carlson of Engine Co. 19 during a fire which destroyed two business houses on North Main street yesterday, causing a total damage of approximately $20,000. The fire started during the noon hour in the pulley works of Dempsey & Barnes, No. 1634 North Main street, spreading to consume the building of the Advance Truck Company, No. 1636 North Main street.

The origin of the fire is a mystery. Pedestrians first gave the alarm. The blaze spread rapidly and was attacking the building of the truck company when Manager A. C. Appleton reached the scene. He had some important books inside, which he rushed to rescue. In his excitement he bore the books to the street and, seeing an automobile passing, flung them into the tonneau and returned for more books. As he was emerging with the second burden a falling beam struck him on the head and knocked him unconscious.

He did not get the number of the automobile in which he threw his books, and the machine did not stop, so he does not know whether he saved them or distributed them.

Cans of gasoline and oil in the truck company's building exploded in salvos. One of the cans was hurled through the air and struck Capt. Carlson on the leg, throwing him into burning debris. Other firemen rescued him. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where the surgeons say he will be unable to use his leg for several weeks. The flesh was battered to a pulp along his thigh.

The fire also consumed some shacks in the neighborhood, one of which was occupied by a Mexican family.

Earlier in the day flames swept a bungalow court at No. 167 South Indiana street, destroying four homes valued at $1500.

Mrs. Hilja Sundholm, 27 years old, leaped from a window to save her infant child, and in reaching the ground sprained her left ankle. Later she appeared at the Receiving Hospital with the babe in her arms. The court was owned by Harry Stephenson.

In an early-morning fire G. E. Malone, No. 1618 East Thirty-third street, was rescued from his home by neighbors, who broke through a window to release him from a fiery cell. Smoke poured into his room so rapidly he could not find the window until the neighbors rushed to his aid. The origin of the blaze is unknown. The house in which Mr. Malone lived was owned by Robert A. Coyle.

The flames spread to the adjoining home of J. Cameron, wrecking the upper part. The total loss is estimated at $5000.

MEETS A STRANGER; SAVINGS VANISH.

ANOTHER BUNCO VICTIM TELLS WOES TO POLICE.

Arranges to Sell Land to Chance Acquaintance; Draws Cash from Bank; is Made Custodian of "Thousand Dollars;" Finds His Pocket Full of Waste Paper.

Prospective buyer, then giver, then thief were the sudden changes effected by an affable stranger that cost Gus Schmitz, No. 115 West First street, $450, according to a report he made to the police yesterday.

Several days ago Mr. Schmitz met the stranger on Spring street, talked with him and learned the unknown man wished to buy some land. Mr. Schmitz had some to sell.

Next day Mr. Schmitz took the man to inspect the property offered for sale. The stranger said it was the choicest spot he had yet seen on which to erect a luxurious dwelling. So the deal was about made, and Mr. Schmitz explained he was going to go East as soon as the transfer was completed.

That was to have occurred yesterday. Mr. Schmitz went to a bank and drew his savings, $450, to be in readiness to go East at once. He met the stranger and the latter proposed they go to Eastlake Park to meet a friend of the stranger.

They went, and while on their way Mr. Schmitz explained he had drawn his savings from the bank.

At the park the second man protested against the purchase. He urged the man to give his money to charity and return East. Mr. Schmitz tried to block such a proceeding. Then he was asked to be the custodian of the $1000 to be distributed among the poor. He said he did not care to handle the money; he wanted to make the sale.

So the two strangers grappled with him in a friendly struggle and forced the envelope supposed to contain the money into the inside pocket of Mr. Schmitz's coat. Then they ran away.

Now, it was that pocket that contained Mr. Schmitz's savings. After the man fled he opened the envelope they had given him. It contained strips of torn newspaper. Then he looked for his own savings. They were gone. While pretending to shower wealth on him the man had picked Mr. Schmitz's pocket.

He gave the police a complete description of the men.

ADDRESS WAS WRONG.

Through an error the address of Mrs. Clara Mendelson, No. 2024 West Twelfth street, was given in The Times yesterday morning, as the place where detective arrested Ed Seay, a cobbler, who later, it is alleged, confessed to robbing a number of residences. The address should have read No. 2224 West Tenth street.

OPPOSING AUNT IN FIGHT FOR ESTATE.

RELATIVES ARE TO FILE SUIT TO ENFORCE TRUST.

Declare Deceased Owner of Property Worth Half a Million Looked After Holdings of His Brother and Failed to Turn Them Over to Heirs.

Suit to enforce a trust will follow the probating of the will of the late F. X. Eberle yesterday afternoon in the Superior Court. The will disposes of property valued at approximately $500,000, including a block at Eighth and San Pedro streets, other city property and extensive mining interests in New Mexico. The beneficiaries are the widow and two children.

A contest to the will had been drawn but when the time for filing it with the principal document arrived, it was decided to change this procedure and file a suit demanding an accounting of a trust alleged to have been made by F. X. Eberle with his brother, John E. Eberle, who died many years ago. The children of the latter, headed by Joseph J. Eberle, maintain that their father and his brother were in business together for years and when the former went to New Mexico to look after partnership interests, he left his business affairs in trust with the brother, who remained here.

It is alleged that while in New Mexico, John Eberle was killed and the "City Gardens," an amusement enterprise, and other properties were left in the hands of the brother to be administered and finally turned over to four children. This was never done and the suit will declare that undue influence was used in order to persuade F. X. Eberle from mentioning the trust in his will.

Attorneys F. W. Nightingale and Harry A. Chamberlin prepared the contest papers, which will be superceded in the suit to be filed in the next few days.

Soda Water Dispenser Faces Possibility of Spending Ten Years in the Penitentiary as a Result of His Alleged Plural Marriage.

LeRoy D. Votaw, a soda water dispenser, is in serious trouble with the Federal authorities. A warrant for his detention in the County Jail was sworn to yesterday by Special Agent Webster of the Department of Justice, before United States Commissioner Hammack, and the young man was held under bond of $2000 for an investigation.

It is alleged that in January, 1915, he married Miss Irene Freeman, and deserted her at Fort Worth, Tex., going to El Paso, in June, last, where he married Estella White who, it is alleged, is but 16 years of age. His first wife is about to become a mother.

Votaw was arrested under the Federal statute that punishes the violator of the law; prohibiting the transportation of any female in interstate commerce for an immoral purpose, it being held that as the legal husband of the first wife he was in no position to marry Miss White. He may be sent to the penitentiary for ten years and fined $10,000. Votaw, when arrested, was selling soda in a drug store on Broadway. He had been in this city but a short time with his alleged second wife.

VIOLATED PROBATION?

Shifty Individual is Ordered Sent Back to Oakland.

Meyer Rachler, a New York tourist with a half-dozen aliases, who is charged with forging the name of George E. Van Guysling, to a check for $18, was ordered sent back to Oakland yesterday by Superior Judge Willis, where he is wanted for violating his five-year probation.

Rachler was arrested in Denver, it is alleged, on a fictitious check charge, and at Oakland a line of "phony" paper, it is said, marked his stay. When taken into custody here he claimed to be but 18 years old, but at Oakland he had given 21 as his proper age, and he looks the figure. The age was sworn to before Judge Willis' a week ago, which may have been to secure a committment to Ione.

NONE TO MOURN.

Body of Man Self-slain in Park Remains Unclaimed in Morgue.

The body of John Kent, the young man who ended his life with a bullet Friday night in Exposition Park, still lies in Bresee Brothers morgue, with no one to claim it, and no arrangements for its disposition made. Coroner Hartwell yesterday signed a death certificate, stating the decedent came to his death from a bullet wound suicidally inflicted.

The dead man was about 28 years old, six feet tall, and of light complexion. All identification marks were removed from his clothes. Clippings in his pocket recorded the case of Sol Alexander, the private detective, convicted for his connection with a clairvoyant group in Long Beach which secured more than $40,000 from Mrs. Mary Eels, a widow.

Unless some one claims the body within a day or two, it will be taken to the potter's field.

Jobbers' Head Going East to Discuss Situation.

Railroad Commission Drafts Appeal to President.

F. P. Gregson, manager of the Associated Jobbers of Los Angeles, will leave tomorrow for Washington, D. C., on a mission, that, if successful, will mean the saving of at least $5,000,000 in freight rates to Southern California during the ensuing year. He will go, in conjunction with other representatives of jobbers' associations on the Pacific Coast, to appear before the Interstate Commerce Commission to protest against the proposed schedule of the freight rates that are to go into effect September 1, unless estopped. Details of this forthcoming protest were printed exclusively in The Times on July 27.

Besides Mr. Gregson, the following will go East for this hearing: Seth Mann, manager of the traffic bureau at San Francisco; Joseph Teal, secretary of the Portland Jobbers' Association; George Bradley of Sacramento, M. R. Wetrick of the Seattle Jobbers' Association, and a considerable delegation of business men from the northern cities.

The hearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission will open in Washington next Monday forenoon. Mr. Gregson will arrive there Sunday, and he will be fortified with direct statements from many members of the local jobbers' association, showing just how they would be injured financially and in what amounts should the proposed freight rates go into effect. Mr. Gregson will have direct data on this line representing about 100 firms here and in Southern California.

Every possible effort will be made, according to Mr. Gregson, to secure a reduction of the rates—which in some cases are 200 per cent. higher than those now in force. If this fails, then the delegations will work together in trying to secure a postponement of the time when the rates shall become effective.

MEANS MONEY LOSS.

It will be set forth that Pacific Coast shippers have themselves tied up with contracts for months ahead, based on the present freight rates, and that it is only justice that they be allowed to clean up on these contracts before any change in rates is made.

In the case of Los Angeles and Southern California shippers, a particular hardship would be worked unless there is a modification of rates or a postponement of the time of their going into effect, as the bulk of the eastbound shipments of canned goods, dried fruits, wines, beans, etc., is yet unmoved, although contracted for on the basis of the present freight rates. The postponement of the new rates for even four months would be the means of saving hundreds of thousands of dollars to the shippers of this part of California, Mr. Gregson stated.

Mr. Gregson will also go to Washington authorized to represent the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce in a proposed conference of the United States Chamber of Commerce, of which the local body is a member. This conference proposed to urge Federal action to avert the imminent railroad strike.

ON STRIKE MATTER.

During the last few days Mr. Gregson has been urging the State Railroad Commission to take action along similar lines, and yesterday he received the following telegram from the commission:

"The Railroad Commission of California has received your communication asking the commission to urge Federal action to avert the nationwide railroad strike now threatening. The commission has sent the following telegram:

"To the President, White House, Washington, D. C.

"This commission is being earnestly urged by many civic and commercial bodies to use its influence in endeavoring to prevent the strike of railroad employees which now seems imminent.

"We regard the matter as one of national scope and importance, and believe that appeal should be made to Federal authority. We are not informed as to the equities of the case, and do not want to be understood as expressing opinion thereon, but in the interest of avoiding disastrous consequences, which would result from the strike, we earnestly urge that every possible reasonable step should be taken by Federal authorities to have the matter amicably adjusted."

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce recently voted in the affirmative in a canvass of the chambers of the United States on the question whether the Interstate Commerce Commission should investigate the situation and endeavor to bring about a settlement of the troubles. In addition to this action, the local chamber adopted resolutions on the subject.

Horse Lovers Ask the Supervisors to Give Funds Needed for the Construction of a Riders' Roadway to Lead to Beverly Hills.

Because the horse has been relegated to the limbo of traffic eddies and present-day roads are entirely too much taken up by rushing automobiles, a number of individuals who are still fond of the saddle animal and ride him across country appeared before the Board of Supervisors yesterday and asked that a bridle path be constructed from Wilshire boulevard to Beverly Hills, a distance of about two miles. They stated that only about $2000 would be required from the county, the remainder of the necessary fund being raised by personal subscription. The matter was taken under advisement.

JITNEY BUSSES MUST PAY MORE.

AMOUNT OF LICENSE FEE IS TO BE INCREASED.

Must Keep to Specified Routes and Refrain from Invading the Taxicab Business—Initiative Petition for Dancing in Cafes and Hotels Filed.

Jitney busses will have to pay the city a bigger license fee when they are placed under the control of the Board of Public Utilities instead of under the Police Commission, it was announced yesterday at a meeting of the Finance Committee of the City Council. The big interurban sightseeing busses are also to pay license fees and they, together with taxis, also will come under the Board of Public Utilities.

A deputation from the Auto Livery Owners' Association waited on the Finance Committee and protested against jitney busses being allowed to act as taxicabs after the rush business of the day was over. It was stated that there have been hundreds of infractions of the ordinance by jitney bus owners in this way.

Councilman Topham said that under the new procedure ordinance it was the intention to make the jitney bus owners specify their routes and live up to them and also pay a new license tax based on the seating capacity. The sight-seeing busses also would be taxed according to their seating capacities. The jitney busses will be required to keep out of the taxicab business. They will have to give service rain or shine, and for the specified number of hours per day, on the specified schedule, otherwise they will lose their licenses.

"The taxis will not get a reduction in the amount of their license fees but the jitney busses will get a raise," Topham said. "They are to specify their routes and if they don't live up to it they will lose their licenses. Absolute control of the matter will be with the Board of Public Utilities."

FOR CONSOLIDATION.

CONFERENCE ON FRIDAY.

The Governing Committee of the Realty Board will meet the City Council at 10 o'clock Friday morning to discuss the holding of a special election to amend the charter so that the offices of Assessor and Tax Collector in the city and county may be consolidated.

Herbert L. Cornish, head of the Realty Board's Campaign Committee, met the Finance Committee of the City Council yesterday and was informed by President Wheeler that the Council has the matter in hand and contemplates calling a charter election in December.

"That is fine; then we will all work together," said Mr. Cornish. He promised to file a communication today with the City Clerk so that the matter can go through the usual course.

City Hall Notes.

War on flies, fleas, rats and mice will be conducted along with a clean-up of rubbish campaign which the health department will start following the decision of the Finance Committee of the City Council yesterday to recommend an appropriation for the employment of drivers for the wagons which will be used. The start of the clean-up campaign has been delayed awaiting this appropriation.

In order that the 100 special policemen who worked in the city while that number of members of the regular police force were sent to the harbor to maintain order during the strike may get their pay, the City Council yesterday authorized that $8640 be transferred from the general expense fund and placed to the credit of the police department general fund.

The Municipal League's request that the City Council investigate as to who was responsible for the error which invalidated the recent Hollywood water bonds election was referred to the Finance Committee yesterday, Councilman Topham remarking that they ought to find out who was to blame for it and why. A communication to the Council from the Municipal League protesting against the passage of the pending ordinance abolishing the position of director of the efficiency department was ordered filed.

ARGUMENT ON POINTS OF LAW IN UNION OIL CASE.

Court Indicates the Question of Right of Holding Companies to Own Stock of Parent Corporation will Depend on the Legality of Their Organization.

Argument for the defense in the Union Oil Company trial was taken up yesterday by Attorney E. E. Miliken, who will discuss those features of the law involved in the suit brought by E. B. Blinn and associate stockholders to wrest control of the Union Oil from the Stewart family, who maintain their position through the holding companies, the United Petroleum and the Union Provident.

Judge Myers, before whom the injunction proceedings have been progressing, indicated that if the holding companies were both legally organized under the California laws, they can hold stock of the principal company. Aside from these points, the matter of the best interests of the company being secured by the Stewart family is to be settled.

At the conclusion of Attorney Milliken's argument, which will probably be today, Attorneys L. W. Hutton and A. V. Andrews will speak.

FIGHT FOR HOTEL HOLDS COURT RECORD.

The Hotel Schuyler, for the last three months buffeted about the courts more than any other property on record, again became a bone of contention yesterday, when the Fidelity Savings and Loan Association brought suit against the Citizens' Trust and Savings Bank for damages aggregating $38,761. According to the complaint, the Citizens' Trust and Savings Bank seized the hotel illegally as a receiver and the business of the lessees of the property was irreparably damaged. This seizure was made on May 27 and continued until June 12.

The receiver of the property was appointed following the filing of a petition in voluntary bankruptcy by the Hotel Schuyler Company, another corporation not controling the lease, but owning the property itself.

THE CITY. With aqueduct water section plans menaced by an Interstate Commerce Commission order raising higher freight rates on iron pipe, the city entered the fight against the increases.

Former Judge Walter Bordwell formally announced his withdrawal as a candidate for United States Senator, and declared for Willis H. Booth.

A new internal complication appeared in the affairs of the House of Lords, in a call for a meeting to consider a change in directors.

The aged banker was granted a divorce from his "$250,000 bride," because of her charges the court held to be cruel.

The Public Service Commission addressed two vigorous rapps to the knuckles of [illegible] Commission.

FIREMEN FACE BOMBARDMENT.

Company Captain Wounded as Gasoline Explodes.

Books Saved from Blaze are Lost in the Shuffle.

Mother Rescues a Baby from Bungalow Court Fire.

Bursting gasoline bombs threatened forty firemen and seriously injured Capt. Eli Carlson of Engine Co. 19 during a fire which destroyed two business houses on North Main street yesterday, causing a total damage of approximately $20,000. The fire started during the noon hour in the pulley works of Dempsey & Barnes, No. 1634 North Main street, spreading to consume the building of the Advance Truck Company, No. 1636 North Main street.

The origin of the fire is a mystery. Pedestrians first gave the alarm. The blaze spread rapidly and was attacking the building of the truck company when Manager A. C. Appleton reached the scene. He had some important books inside, which he rushed to rescue. In his excitement he bore the books to the street and, seeing an automobile passing, flung them into the tonneau and returned for more books. As he was emerging with the second burden a falling beam struck him on the head and knocked him unconscious.

He did not get the number of the automobile in which he threw his books, and the machine did not stop, so he does not know whether he saved them or distributed them.

Cans of gasoline and oil in the truck company's building exploded in salves. One of the cans was hurled through the air and struck Capt. Carlson on the leg, throwing him into burning debris. Other firemen rescued him. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where the surgeons say he will be unable to use his leg for several weeks. The flesh was battered to a pulp along his thigh.

The fire also consumed some shacks in the neighborhood, one of which was occupied by a Mexican family.

Earlier in the day flames swept a bungalow court at No. 167 South Indiana street, destroying four homes valued at $5000.

Mrs. Hilja Sundholm, 37 years old, leaped from a window to save her infant child, and in reaching the ground sprained her left ankle. Later she appeared at the Receiving Hospital with the babe in her arms. The court was owned by Harry Stephenson.

In an early-morning fire G. E. Malone, No. 1418 East Thirty-third street, was rescued from his home by neighbors, who broke through a window to release him from a fiery cell. Smoke poured into his room so rapidly he could not find the window until the neighbors rushed to his aid. The origin of the blaze is unknown. The house in which Mr. Malone lived was owned by Robert A. Coyle.

The flames spread to the adjoining home of J. Cameron, wrecking the upper part. The total loss is estimated at $3000.

MEETS A STRANGER; SAVINGS VANISH.

ANOTHER BUNCO VICTIM TELLS WOES TO POLICE.

Arranges to Sell Land to Chance Acquaintance; Draws Cash from Bank; is Made Custodian of "Thousand Dollars;" Finds His Pocket Full of Waste Paper.

Prospective buyer, then giver, then thief were the sudden changes effected by an affable stranger that cost Gus Schmitz, No. 115 West First street, $450, according to a report he made to the police yesterday.

Several days ago Mr. Schmitz met the stranger on Spring street, talked with him and learned the unknown man wished to buy some land. Mr. Schmitz had some to sell.

Next day Mr. Schmitz took the man to inspect the property offered for sale. The stranger said it was the choicest spot he had yet seen on which to erect a luxurious dwelling. So the deal was about made, and Mr. Schmitz explained he was going to go East as soon as the transfer was completed.

That was to have occurred yesterday. Mr. Schmitz went to a bank and drew his savings, $450, to be in readiness to go East at once. He met the stranger and the latter proposed they go to Eastlake Park to meet a friend of the stranger.

They went, and while on their way Mr. Schmitz explained he had drawn his savings from the bank.

At the park the second man protested against the purchase. He urged the man to give his money to charity and return East. Mr. Schmitz tried to block such a proceeding. Then he was asked to be HIS custodian of the $1000 to be white, tributed among the poor. He said he could not care to handle the money; he wanted to make the sale.

So the two strangers grappled with him in a friendly struggle and forced the envelope supposed to contain the money into the inside pocket of Mr. Schmitz's coat. Then they ran away.

Now, it was that pocket that contained Mr. Schmitz's savings. After the man had he opened the envelope they had given him. It contained strips of torn newspaper. Then he looked for his own savings. They were gone. While pretending to shower wealth on him the men had picked Mr. Schmitz's pocket.

He gave the police a complete description of the men.

ADDRESS WAS WRONG.

Through an error the address of Mrs. Clara Mendelson, No. 2024 West Twelfth street, was given in The Times yesterday morning, as the place where detective arrested Ed Mear, a cobbler, who later, it is alleged, confessed to robbing a number of residences. The address should have read No. 2224 West Tenth street.

OPPOSING AUNT IN FIGHT FOR ESTATE.

RELATIVES ARE TO FILE SUIT TO ENFORCE TRUST.

Declare Deceased Owner of Property Worth Half a Million Looked After Holdings of His Brother and Failed to Turn Them Over to Heirs.

Suit to enforce a trust will follow the probating of the will of the late F. X. Eberle yesterday afternoon in the Superior Court. The will disposes of property valued at approximately $500,000, including a block at Eighth and San Pedro streets, other city property and extensive mining interests in New Mexico. The beneficiaries are the widow and two children.

A contest to the will had been drawn but when the time for filing it with the principal document arrived, it was decided to change this procedure and file a suit demanding an accounting of a trust alleged to have been made by F. X. Eberle with his brother, John E. Eberle, who died many years ago. The children of the latter, headed by Joseph J. Eberle, maintain that their father and his brother were in business together for years and when the former went to New Mexico to look after partnership interests, he left his business affairs in trust with the brother, who remained here.

It is alleged that while in New Mexico, John Eberle was killed and the "City Gardens," an amusement enterprise, and other properties were left in the hands of the brother to be administered and finally turned over to four children. This was never done and the suit will declare that undue influence was used in order to persuade F. X. Eberle from mentioning the trust in his will.

Attorneys F. W. Nightingale and Harry A. Chamberlin prepared the contest papers, which will be supervised in the suit to be filed in the next few days.

Soda Water Dispenser Faces Possibility of Spending Ten Years in the Penitentiary as a Result of His Alleged Plural Marriage.

LeRoy D. Votaw, a soda water dispenser, is in serious trouble with the Federal authorities. A warrant for his detention in the County Jail was sworn to yesterday by Special Agent Webster of the Department of Justice, before United States Commissioner Hammack, and the young man was held under bond of $2000 for an investigation.

It is alleged that in January, 1915, he married Miss Irene Freeman, and deserted her at Fort Worth, Tex., going to El Paso, in June, last, where he married Estella White who, it is alleged, is but 16 years of age. His first wife is about to become a mother.

Votaw was arrested under the Federal statute that punishes the violator of the law prohibiting the transportation of any female in interstate commerce for an immoral purpose, it being held that as the legal husband of the first wife he was in no position to marry Miss White. He may be sent to the penitentiary for ten years and fined $10,000. Votaw, when arrested, was selling soda in a drug store on Broadway. He had been in this city but a short time with his alleged second wife.

VIOLATED PROBATION?

Shifty Individual is Ordered Sent Back to Oakland.

Meyer Rachler, a New York tourist with a half-dozen aliases, who is charged with forging the name of George E. Van Guysling, to a check for $18, was ordered sent back to Oakland yesterday by Superior Judge Willis, where he is wanted for violating his five-year probation.

Rachler was arrested in Denver, it is alleged, on a fictitious check charge, and at Oakland a line of "phony" paper, it is said, marked his stay. When taken into custody here he claimed to be but 18 years old, but at Oakland he had given 21 as his proper age, and he looks the figure. The age was sworn to before Judge Willis a week ago, which may have been to secure a commitment to Ione.

NONE TO MOURN.

Body of Man Self-slain in Park Remains Unclaimed in Morgue.

The body of John Kent, the young man who ended his life with a bullet Friday night in Exposition Park, still lies in Bresee Brothers morgue, with no one to claim it, and no arrangements for its disposition made. Coroner Hartwell yesterday signed a death certificate, stating the decedent came to his death from a bullet wound suicidally inflicted.

The dead man was about 28 years old, six feet tall, and of light complexion. All identification marks were removed from his clothes. Clippings in his pocket recorded the case of Sol Alexander, the private detective, convicted for his connection with a clairvoyant group in Long Beach which secured more than $40,000 from Mrs. Mary Eels, a widow.

Unless some one claims the body within a day or two, it will be taken to the potter's field.

Jobbers' Head Going East to Discuss Situation.

Railroad Commission Drafts Appeal to President.

F. P. Gregson, manager of the Associated Jobbers of Los Angeles, will leave tomorrow for Washington, D. C., on a mission, that, if successful, will mean the saving of at least $5,000,000 in freight rates to Southern California during the ensuing year. He will go, in conjunction with other representatives of jobbers' associations on the Pacific Coast, to appear before the Interstate Commerce Commission to protest against the proposed schedule of the freight rates that are to go into effect September 1, unless estopped. Details of this forthcoming protest were printed exclusively in The Times on July 27.

Besides Mr. Gregson, the following will go East for this hearing: Seth Mann, manager of the traffic bureau at San Francisco; Joseph Teal, secretary of the Portland Jobbers' Association; George Bradley of Sacramento, M. R. Wetrick of the Seattle Jobbers' Association, and a considerable delegation of business men from the northern cities.

The hearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission will open in Washington next Monday forenoon. Mr. Gregson will arrive there Sunday, and he will be fortified with direct statements from many members of the local jobbers' association, showing just how they would be injured financially and in what amounts should the proposed freight rates go into effect. Mr. Gregson will have direct data on this line representing about 100 firms here and in Southern California.

Every possible effort will be made, according to Mr. Gregson, to secure a reduction of the rates—which in some cases are 200 per cent. higher than those now in force. If this fails, then the delegations will work together in trying to secure a postponement of the time when the rates shall become effective.

MEANS MONEY LOSS.

It will be set forth that Pacific Coast shippers have themselves tied up with contracts for months ahead, based on the present freight rates, and that it is only justice that they be allowed to clean up on these contracts before any change in rates is made.

In the case of Los Angeles and Southern California shippers a particular hardship would be worked unless there is a modification of rates or a postponement of the time of their going into effect, as the bulk of the eastbound shipments of canned goods, dried fruits, wines, beans, etc., is yet unmoved, although contracted for on the basis of the present freight rates. The postponement of the new rates for even four months would be the means of saving hundreds of thousands of dollars to the shippers of this part of California, Mr. Gregson stated.

Mr. Gregson will also go to Washington authorized to represent the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce in a proposed conference of the United States Chamber of Commerce, of which the local body is a member. This conference proposed to urge Federal action to avert the imminent railroad strike.

ON STRIKE MATTER.

During the last few days Mr. Gregson has been urging the State Railroad Commission to take action along similar lines, and yesterday he received the following telegram from the commission:

"The Railroad Commission of California has received your communication asking the commission to urge Federal action to avert the nation-wide railroad strike now threatening. The commission has sent the following telegram:

"To the President, White House, Washington, D. C.

"This commission is being earnestly urged by many civic and commercial bodies to use its influence in endeavoring to prevent the strike of railroad employees which now seems imminent.

"We regard the matter as one of national scope and importance, and believe that appeal should be made to Federal authority. We are not informed as to the equities of the case, and do not want to be understood as expressing opinion thereon, but in the interest of avoiding disastrous consequences, which would result from the strike, we earnestly urge that every possible reasonable step should be taken by Federal authorities to have the matter amicably adjusted."

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce recently voted in the affirmative in a canvass of the chambers of the United States on the question whether the Interstate Commerce Commission should investigate the situation and endeavor to bring about a settlement of the troubles. In addition to this action, the local chamber adopted resolutions on the subject.

Horse Lovers Ask the Supervisors to Give Funds Needed for the Construction of a Riders' Roadway to Lead to Beverly Hills.

Because the horse has been relegated to the limbo of traffic eddies and present-day roads are entirely too much taken up by rushing automobiles, a number of individuals who are still fond of the saddle animal and ride him across country appeared before the Board of Supervisors yesterday and asked that a bridle path be constructed from Wilshire boulevard to Beverly Hills, a distance of about two miles. They stated that only about $2000 would be required from the county, the remainder of the necessary fund being raised by personal subscription. The matter was taken under advisement.

JITNEY BUSSES MUST PAY MORE.

AMOUNT OF LICENSE FEE IS TO BE INCREASED.

Must Keep to Specified Routes and Refrain from Invading the Taxicab Business—Initiative Petition for Dancing in Cafes and Hotels Filed.

Jitney busses will have to pay the city a bigger license fee when they are placed under the control of the Board of Public Utilities instead of under the Police Commission, it was announced yesterday at a meeting of the Finance Committee of the City Council. The big interurban sightseeing busses are also to pay license fees and they, together with taxis, also will come under the Board of Public Utilities.

A deputation from the Auto Livery Owners' Association waited on the Finance Committee and protested against jitney busses being allowed to act as taxicabs after the rush business of the day was over. It was stated that there have been hundreds of infractions of the ordinance by jitney bus owners in this way.

Councilman Topham said that under the new procedure ordinance it was the intention to make the jitney bus owners specify their routes and live up to them and also pay a new license tax based on the seating capacity. The sight-seeing busses also would be taxed according to their seating capacities. The jitney busses will be required to keep out of the taxicab business. They will have to give service rain or shine, and for the specified number of hours per day, on the specified schedule, otherwise they will lose their licenses.

"The taxis will not get a reduction in the amount of their license fees but the jitney busses will get a raise," Topham said. "They are to specify their routes and if they don't live up to it they will lose their licenses. Absolute control of the matter will be with the Board of Public Utilities."

FOR CONSOLIDATION.

CONFERENCE ON FRIDAY.

The Governing Committee of the Realty Board will meet the City Council at 10 o'clock Friday morning to discuss the holding of a special election to amend the charter so that the offices of Assessor and Tax Collector in the city and county may be consolidated.

Herbert L. Cornish, head of the Realty Board's Campaign Committee, met the Finance Committee of the City Council yesterday and was informed by President Wheeler that the Council has the matter in hand and contemplates calling a charter election in December.

"That is fine; then we will all work together," said Mr. Cornish. He promised to file a communication today with the City Clerk so that the matter can go through the usual course.

City Hall Notes.

War on flies, fleas, rats and mice will be conducted along with a clean-up of rubbish campaign which the health department will start following the decision of the Finance Committee of the City Council yesterday to recommend an appropriation for the employment of drivers for the wagons which will be used. The start of the clean-up campaign has been delayed awaiting this appropriation.

In order that the 100 special policemen who worked in the city while that number of members of the regular police force were sent to the harbor to maintain order during the strike may get their pay, the City Council yesterday authorized that $8640 be transferred from the general expense fund and placed to the credit of the police department general fund.

The Municipal League's request that the City Council investigate as to who was responsible for the error which invalidated the recent Hollywood water bonds election was referred to the Finance Committee yesterday, Councilman Topham remarking that they ought to find out who was to blame for it and why. A communication to the Council from the Municipal League protesting against the passage of the pending ordinance abolishing the position of director of the efficiency department was ordered filed.

ARGUMENT ON POINTS OF LAW IN UNION OIL CASE.

Court Indicates the Question of Right of Holding Companies to Own Stock of Parent Corporation will Depend on the Legality of Their Organization.

Argument for the defense in the Union Oil Company trial was taken up yesterday by Attorney E. E. Milliken, who will discuss those features of the law involved in the suit brought by E. B. Blinn and associate stockholders to wrest control of the Union Oil from the Stewart family, who maintain their position through the holding companies, the United Petroleum and the Union Provident.

Judge Myers, before whom the injunction proceedings have been progressing, indicated that if the holding companies were both legally organized under the California laws, they can hold stock of the principal company. Aside from these points, the matter of the best interests of the company being secured by the Stewart family is to be settled.

At the conclusion of Attorney Milliken's argument, which will probably be today, Attorneys L. W. Hutton and A. V. Andrews will speak.

FIGHT FOR HOTEL HOLDS COURT RECORD.

The Hotel Schuyler, for the last three months buffeted about the courts more than any other property on record, again became a bone of contention yesterday, when the Fidelity Savings and Loan Association brought suit against the Citizens Trust and Savings Bank for damages aggregating $35,761. According to the complaint, the Citizens' Trust and Savings Bank seized the hotel illegally as a receiver and the business of the lessees of the property was irreparably damaged. This seizure was made on May 27 and continued until June 12.

The receiver of the property was appointed following the filing of a petition in voluntary bankruptcy by the Hotel Schuyler Company, another corporation not controling the lease, but owning the property itself.
